Deficit In Central Budget?

War Scare In Europe Leads To Soaring Exports But Fall In Imports & Customs Returns Upsets Grigg's Apple Cart

(From Our Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, January 29. How the United Kingdom and other Continental countries are storing up raw materials for an evil day is indicated by India's trade returns for December which have just been issued.

WAR SCARE TELLS
India continues to export merchandise on an unprecedented scale. In the nine months ended December, the export of merchandise alone has increased by 20 crores. The commodities affected by the larger off-take by foreign countries suggest war scare and preparation for eventualities.
Larger consignments of wheat, rice, coffee, cotton, raw wool, raw pig lead, groundnuts, linseed, jute gunny bags and jute gunny cloth have left Indian shores in December than hitherto.
Our balance of trade in merchandise has reached 50 crores against 19 in December, 1935, while the total visible balance amounts to 64 crores against the United Kingdom, recording an increase of 7 crores. This really does not matter, as there have always been crores of invisible exports to that country.

BUDGET DEFICIT?
Imports continue to fall, adding to the Budget worries of the Finance Member by way of lesser customs returns. So far, imports have fallen by about 10 crores and customs returns by two crores indicating a deficit in the budget.

ACCUSED ASK FOR DEATH

Trotskyites Make Confession Of Conspiring To Sell Soviet Union

MOSCOW.
In speeches sounding like their own funeral orations, Karl Radek and Platakoff made confession of conspiring to sell the Soviet Union to foreign countries and asked "nothing more merciful than death."
Platakoff regretted that Trotsky was not present to share their fate and pathetically begged the court to believe that "in dying, I am no longer a Trotskyite."
Radek contrastingly kept a firm front and assumed full responsibility. He did not need Trotsky's inspiration. He was rebuked by Judge Ulrich when he addressed him as Comrade, and finally turned towards the foreign press and shouted "I secretly plotted for an international conflagration."
Sokolnikoff the first of the accused in an appeal for mercy sobbingly concluded his speech "I deserve nothing but the death penalty but I beg the court's mercy in view of the extenuating circumstances"—Reuter.

Poona Welcomes M. N. Roy

Public Reception Will Be Accorded To-day

(From Our Correspondent)
POONA CITY, Jan. 29. Mammoth crowds besieged Poona station platform this evening to welcome Comrade M. N. Roy on his arrival by Madras Express from Bombay.
On alighting from the train, Mr. Roy was profusely garlanded on behalf of several institutions amidst cheers and "Inquilab zindabad".
He then drove to Mr. Gadgil's residence, where he will stay for a couple of days.
It is understood that the venue of Mr. Roy's public addresses to-morrow and day-after has undergone change.

"ROY ZINDABAD"

POONA, Jan. 29. A hearty welcome was accorded by the youth of Poona to Mr. M. N. Roy, when he arrived here this evening accompanied by Dr. G. Y. Chitnis, Mr. Ramesh Nadkarni and Mr. V. B. Karnik. The secretary and some members of the Reception Committee went as far as Lonavla to welcome him, while scores of youths went to meet him at Bamburda.
As Mr. Roy, wearing a Gandhi cap, stepped out of the third class compartment, delirious shouts of "Roy Zindabad" rose above the din of a brassband and the blare of trumpets. Mr. Roy was met by Mr. Gadgil, M. L. A., Mr. Deolirkar, Mrs. Maniben Mulji and other Congress leaders and Socialists, and was given a guard of honour composed of volunteers and sevikas. Nearly a hundred garlands were showered on him on behalf of Congress Committees, Students' Associations, Workers' Unions and Kisan Sabhas from the Poona suburbs. Mr. Roy drove to the residence of Mr. Gadgil, where he is staying.
A public reception will be accorded to Mr. Roy to-morrow evening.—A.P.

D. S. P. WILL NOT OBLIGE

POONA, Jan. 29. Last-minute changes in almost the entire reception and meeting arrangements in connection with Mr. M. N. Roy's visit to Poona have been necessitated by the failure of the reception committee to obtain the necessary permission from authorities.
In reply for permission to hold the meeting in Shanwarwada, where usually meetings are held, and the request for a temporary shifting of the bus-stand from there, the Secretary, Roy Reception Committee, received the following reply this afternoon from the District Superintendent of Police:—"The request cannot be granted. It should also be noted that if any obstruction is caused to public traffic, the offenders will be dealt with according to law."

CHANCELLOR LOOKS TO HITLER FOR A GESTURE

Warns Armaments Race Will Tell On Standard Of Living

LONDON, Jan. 29. "If something is not done to reduce the terrible burden of armaments, it is bound to pull down the standard of living for a generation," declared Mr. Neville Chamberlain in a speech at Birmingham.
The growing cost of maintenance of the vast panoply of armaments reflects the incredible folly of civilisation. The outlook is not without hopeful features.

The Anglo-Italian Agreement has done much to dissipate the ill-feeling, arising from British efforts to fulfil a League obligation. There was a fair hope of leaving Spain to her own decision regarding the kind of Government she wished, which would probably result in favour of neither Fascists nor Communists. With a partial relaxation of our anxiety, it should be possible to devote our attention to a general European settlement. If Herr Hitler to-morrow offered a contribution, his words would find warm a response in Britain. If European problems were solely economic, our task would be infinitely easier and our readiness to make the necessary sacrifice would be more apparent than they are. He believed that the prospects of British industry in 1937 were as bright as ever known. The Chancellor finally foreshadowed a substantial extension of operations in the distressed areas, on armaments and other things.—Reuter.

Veteran Journalist Dead

LONDON, Jan. 29. The death has occurred of Sir Percival Phillips.—Reuter.
Sir Percival Phillips was sixty at his death and was in journalism for over forty years. While young, he was associated with American daily papers and was subsequently on the staff of "Daily Express", before he became special correspondent of "Daily Mail". He made a name as war correspondent when he was on the "Daily Express", and was one of the five accredited war correspondents with British army on the Western Front during the Great War. He saw service in other important wars. He covered the Prince of Wales (Ex-King Edward) in his tours and visited India along with him 1921-22, in the heyday of non-co-operation movement. He again visited India 1928-29. In 1928, he covered King Amanullah from Karachi to Europe. There was not a storm centre in the East, Middle East and Far East which he did not visit. While in Bombay he used to put up at the Royal Yacht Club.

"RED FLAGGERS" ARRESTED

LUCKNOW, January 29. Four volunteers carrying "red" flags have been arrested by the railway police at Gonda on the charge of holding up a train.
It is alleged that the volunteers who were conducting election propaganda stood on the lines before a moving train and waved the red flags which the guard mistook for a danger signal. The train was stopped and the volunteers were arrested by the railway police.—United Press.

The organisers have now decided to hold the reception to-morrow evening in the open maidan on the other side of the river. A meeting which was to be held on Sunday morning in the local theatre, where Mr. Roy has been scheduled to speak on "The Indian Renaissance" has also been given up as the theatre authorities did not permit holding the meeting.

Mr. Roy is arriving here this evening by the Madras Express, on his Maharashtra tour, and will be leaving for Sholapur on January 31.—A.P.

HIS LUMBAGO WENT IN A FORTNIGHT

Never Felt So Well in His Life

NOW TAKES KRUSCHEN REGULARLY

Though he tried no end of so-called remedies, this man continued to suffer with lumbago for years. It troubled him, in fact, until he found the right remedy, the one that can always be relied on—Kruschen Salts. These are his own words—

"I would like to tell you of the benefit I derived from taking Kruschen Salts. For some years past I have been a sufferer from lumbago. I tried no end of other remedies, but got no relief whatever until one day I saw Kruschen advertised and thought I would give it a trial. I did, and to my surprise the lumbago left me after taking Kruschen for a fortnight. I am now taking it regularly every day and never felt so well in my life."—W.K.

Why is it that Kruschen is so effective in keeping lumbago at bay? Simply because it goes right down to the root of the trouble, and removes the cause, which is an impure blood-stream.

Kruschen is a combination of six natural salts which stimulate your liver, kidneys and digestive tract to healthy, regular activity. They ensure internal cleanliness, and keep the blood-stream pure. Now and refreshed blood is sent coursing to every fibre of your being. Lumbago, rheumatism, headaches and indigestion all pass you by.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Boazars.

RANJI TROPHY AND BOMBAY

Financial Losses Will Not Follow Participation

Sir John Beaumont, the Chief Justice of the Bombay High Court was unanimously re-elected the President of the Bombay Cricket Association at the adjourned Annual meeting of that body held on Thursday evening with Dr. Alban D'Souza in the Chair.

Mr. A. A. Fyze and Mr. A. A. Jasdenwala were re-elected Hon. Secretary and Treasurer respectively, while Dr. Kanga was re-elected the Chairman of the Association.

Sir Nowroji Saklatvala and Sir Chunilal Mehta were re-elected the Vice-Presidents of the Association for the next year while the following were elected on the Managing Committee: Col. Mistry, Messrs. D. K. Kanadia; S. R. Desai; Godiwala and M. D. Pai.

The Annual Report of the Association and the accounts were adopted after some discussion. BOMBAY AND RANJI TROPHY.

In the course of the discussion, the question of the Financial position of the Association "vis-a-vis" the Ranji Trophy was raised. Some of the members wanted to know why Bombay had participated in the Tournament in spite of the fact that Bombay had incurred a loss of more than Rs. 3,000 the previous year. It was urged that Bombay should not participate in the tournament till guarantee was forthcoming that participation would mean no financial loss. Bombay situated as it was financially could not afford to go on losing every year.

Both Mr. Fyze and Mr. Jasdenwala stated the position of the Managing Committee. Bombay had incurred a loss of Rs. 3,769 by its participation in the Ranji Trophy during 1935-36. Maharashtra had paid only 2,350 while the Cricket Board had given 1,300.

It had been decided that Bombay should not participate in the Ranji Trophy this year but on a personal appeal made by the President of the Board of Cricket Control, Bombay agreed to enter this time. Due to Bombay having been eliminated in the Western Zone Semi-Finals at Poona, Bombay would have to bear the expenses only upto Rs. 700. The officials said that Bombay would not participate in the Ranji Trophy in future unless they were fully confident and assured that the Bombay Association would not have to bear any financial loss.

SHOCK-PROOF

The New All-Proof "SOWAR PRIMA" watch embodies features which make it definitely resistant to damage from any normal shock, such as a fall from the wrist. Even violent vibrations, such as a watch receives when worn by a motor-cyclist, will not harm the "SOWAR PRIMA." This remarkable watch is made shock-proof by a "floating" system of balance jewel setting, by which these jewels—held together with the balance which they hold—move in the direction of any shock the watch may receive thereafter regaining their original position. The balance staff is also designed so that it takes up shocks at its strongest point, and not by its delicate pivots. Extra protection is given by an elastic cap holding the movement.

WATER-PROOF

The case is stamped from the solid, with a special screw-in back, tightening on to a soft metal packing. The winding nut is fully protected. Thus, the watch is completely water-proof, and equally sealed against the entry of all damp, perspiration, dust, grit and such-like damaging agents.

STAIN-PROOF

Made from "West End Patent Everbright" Steel, the finest known, stainless, tarnished, corroded, bleached or spotted in any way. The watch looks bright and new however long you wear it. Its brilliant case cannot be dented, scratched, or discolored, this wonderful patent metal is indestructible.

Fourth Test Match Begins

Australians Make 267 For 7

McCabe's 88 And Chipperfield's 45

Australia by winning the Third Test at Melbourne by 365 runs shattered the hopes of England's supporters, who were looking forward to Allen's team wrestling the Ashes with three consecutive Test wins.

No doubt Dame Fortune favoured Bradman to win the toss in the Third Test at Melbourne, which enabled Australia to have first knock on a "cast-iron" wicket and send their opponents in after heavy rain to struggle for runs.

At Adelaide yesterday, England and Australia did battle for the Ashes in the Fourth Test.

If England wins, the Ashes will be recovered and taken back to the Mother Country.

Therefore, Australia will make a gallant effort to win the Fourth Test and meet England in the Fifth Test at Melbourne "Two All" to make the rubber more exciting.

FRIDAY'S PLAY

Australia Score 267 For 7

ADELAIDE: Jan. 29. The Fourth Test Match of the present series, between England and Australia, commenced here today.

Bradman winning the toss sent in Fingleton and Brown to open Australia's first innings.

BRADMAN'S 3,000.

Thirty-four thousand witnessed the Test match in sunny warm weather. Bradman when scored one, to-day completed 3,000 in Anglo-Australian Tests. He seemed well set for big score but when he was 26 was clean bowled by Allen. McCabe played a chanceless innings executing delightful strokes, hooking and cutting. He scored 50 in 88 minutes and batted in all 135 minutes. His score included nine fours. Bradman, and McCabe added sixty-three for fourth wicket.

"AUSSIES" SETBACK.

Australia suffered a setback immediately after lunch, when they lost in the first over from Farnes two wickets, the victims being Brown and Rigg. At this stage Farnes' analysis was 2 for 15. England's fielding was excellent. Ames kept the wicket beautifully, not conceding a bye before tea.

At the close of play Australia had made 267 for seven wickets.

PARSI GYMKHANA TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Charanjiva-Bobb's Excellent Display In Doubles

BLAKE BEATS CEYLON'S NO. 1

The matches decided on Friday afternoon, in the Men's Singles of the Bombay Parsi Gymkhana Open Lawn Tennis Tournament, at the Kennedy Sea Face, carried that event to the semi-final stage.

The first match this afternoon in singles between B. T. Blake and H. C. Sansoni, Ceylon's No. 1, provided tennis of a very high standard, and after a keen struggle for supremacy, the former succeeded in disposing off the Ceylon player at (6-3) (3-6) (6-2). Sansoni, though he has lost in Quarter-final round, has been the only player to exploit a full-armed fore-hand drive with terrific force. Besides this he has a very useful service of the cannon-ball variety.

In the Mixed-doubles, Miss Sansoni, Ceylon's leading woman player and E. V. Bobb defeated Miss I. S. Hannay and D. Stillard by the odd set of a very thrilling match, in which all the four distinguished themselves. After losing the first set at (4-6), the winners recovered very well and soon drawing level in the second set at (6-2), they went on to win the decisive set at (6-1).

STRONG PAIR

In the Men's doubles, Charanjiva and Bobb, served and smashed marvelously, giving one of the finest exhibits of modern doubles play, seen so far in the tournament and beat Blake and Azim at (6-2) (5-7) (6-2). This match provided tennis which touched the highest mark of skill and accuracy. 'PARLE OVER BRIDGE' TANGLE

Citizens' Protest Against Municipal Decision

(From Our Correspondent).
VILE PARLE, Friday.
The recent decision of the Vile Parle Municipality in accepting the offer of a Marwari gentleman to construct a foot-over-bridge at his cost at a site near his property on Ansari Road has taken Parla by surprise, as the Municipality was committed to construct an over-bridge near the existing railway bridge and had even paid Rs. 2,000 as part-payment to the railway to-wards the cost of the same. The proposed bridge on Ansari Road is far away from the station and does not connect the main roads. All public places of importance such as the vegetable market stall, the Municipal dispensary and the Gokil High Schools are situated just near the station and any other site than the one already agreed upon, over two years ago, will be unacceptable to a large section of the population of Parla.

THE LATEST.

When a similar offer was received from the Marwari gentleman last year, hundreds of rate-payers and citizens thronged the Municipal office and put all possible pressure to bear on the members with the result that the Municipality rejected the offer but suddenly on January 17 this year, the question was again revived and quietly brought for discussion without even putting the same on the agenda! Protests from several members were of no avail and the resolution accepting the offer coupled with an assurance that the Municipality would be prepared to give him a license for a private market, which he is building at the foot of the proposed bridge was carried by a majority. Two monster public meetings including one of women are being arranged for to-morrow night.

ALLEGED "FALSE AND MALICIOUS" PROSECUTION

Settlement In High Court Suit For Damages

The suit filed by Francis Klein claiming Rs. 4,05,000 from Edward Suren and another as damages for alleged false and malicious prosecution which had been going on before Mr. Justice Rangnekar at the High Court came to an abrupt end on the parties coming to a settlement.

The first defendant was an agent of the Tube Makers' Combine and of the United Steel Works Ltd., of Dusseldorf in Germany. In September, 1935, he appointed the plaintiff as his agent in Bombay for five years. On the expiry of the first defendant's agency, the German manufacturers appointed the plaintiff as their direct representative in India.

Thereafter the first defendant's son, the second defendant, came down to Bombay and opened a new office to carry on the business in India. He instituted a complaint charging the plaintiff with criminal breach of trust in respect of moneys belonging to his father's firm, and got the plaintiff arrested on board the ship on his arrival from Europe on February 6, 1931. The plaintiff's brother, Frederic Klein, who had gone to the Mole Station to receive him, was also arrested. Both the brothers were detained in the lock-up at the Esplanade Police Station and were released on bail the same evening. The trial resulted in the acquittal of both the brothers.

"FALSE AND MALICIOUS"

The plaintiff submitted that the prosecution against him and his brother was launched falsely and maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause and, therefore, the second defendant was liable for the damages suffered by him and his brother. The first defendant was also liable, because it was as his constituted attorney and agent that the second defendant had lodged the complaint.

SETTLEMENT

In this case, the parties came to a settlement under which, on the defendants expressing regret for getting the plaintiff arrested, the suit was dismissed and no order was made as to costs.

A similar suit by Frederic Klein was also settled on the same terms. There was a third case in which Francis Klein sued the defendants for accounts of the agency business. This was also similarly settled, the parties agreeing not to take further proceedings against each other in respect of the same matter. The Advocate General with Mr. K. S. Shavakshaw, instructed by Mulla and Mulla, appeared for the plaintiffs. Mr. V. F. Taraporevala with Mr. G. C. O'Gorman instructed by Messrs. Craige Blunt and Caroe, appeared for the defendants.

CITIZENS' PROTEST

Under the auspices of the Lokmanya Seva Sangh, the Property-Holders' Association and the Kumarika and Stree Mandal, a public meeting of the citizens of Vile Parle will be held at Tilak Mandir, to-day (Saturday) at 9 p.m. to protest against the recent decision of the Vile Parle Municipality to locate the footbridge at Ansari Road.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(BY A SUBURBAN MAN)

From to-day I am told, starts a series of whist drives in the suburbs. It looks as if the suburbs have gone whist crazy.

Bandra alone is to hold three whist drives, two to-day and one to-morrow. The Bandra Gymkhana, well-known for the monthly Ciderella dances, are to-day to hold a whist drive followed by a social. This starts at 7 p.m. and is open to members and their friends. Quite a number of tables have already been booked, and it all promises to be a very enjoyable affair.

The Merry Vile Club, a badminton club who have their court on the other side of St. Andrews Road are to have their whist drive at 6 p.m. and this is to be followed by a social. I suppose you know what I mean by a social... a little of dancing, and society games, this is open to members and their friends.

Then the final closing function at Bandra is the G. I. P. Railway Institute, Bandra, who, I understand, have to hold a well-organised whist drive, followed by a social.

GRAVES FOR THE LIVING

Nobody has ever heard of graves for living. But Bandra is now full of these graves all along the roads. The drainage trenches, that's what I mean, are deep and experience has shown they are dangerous, too. Only a fortnight ago they took away the life of a cyclist on Pali Road. This case at first spread a lot of rumours of foul play, but from a thorough investigation by the police it was found to be a mere accident.

Without these trenches being dug, Bandra can never have their drainage, but what I insist is that the contractors should put better fencing, though they be only for temporary purpose. The present fencing is of bamboos which at a slight push likely to give way, and that is not all. Red lights are put up at very short intervals. I suggest that the Municipality insists upon greater caution from the contractors, if public life is not to leave a red mark on Bandra's drainage scheme.

BOMBAY, SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1937

MORE VICTORIES

While the reports from various provinces about Congress victories continue to be gratifying, those from Orissa are splendid. From the figures so far available it appears that out of 39 possible seats in the province the Congress has captured 32 and a few more results are yet to be announced. Thus in a House of sixty members the Congress has already secured an absolute majority. A remarkable feature of the Congress success in the province is that that body has won not only an absolute majority of seats but also a vast majority of votes cast, so that at least 25 of the defeated rivals forfeited their deposits. All this is clear evidence of the strong hold of the Congress over the people of the province. The Congress has a similar hold on the people in other provinces, too, though for various reasons the election successes may not be quite as decisive as they have been in Orissa. The position in Assam is also reported to be highly satisfactory as there, too, the Congress has won an absolute majority.

In Bengal

In Bengal, thanks largely to the position created by the Communal Award and the prolonged squabbles among Congressmen themselves, the Congress Party could not expect anything like the results achieved in Orissa or Assam. But considering the odds against it, the Congress is making good headway. Of the 180 seats so far filled, the Congress Party by itself has secured only 38; but with the certain support of the Muslim Proja (Tenants') Party, which has already captured 34 seats and with the equally certain support of a few Nationalists and Independents, the Congress can be relied upon to be the strongest force in the Assembly. And if the Muslim League ally themselves with the European Group, Zamindars, and other reactionary interests, they will forfeit what little influence some of them may now have with the masses. An encouraging feature of the present politics in Bengal is that at long last party divisions and groupings are tending to be formed on an economic and political basis rather than a communal one. This fact cannot but make the Congress Party the strongest in the local Assembly.

Appeal To Voters

As regards our own Presidency, out of the 110 seats for the General Constituencies the Congress is contesting all but four. And Sardar Vallabhbhai, President of the All-India Congress Parliamentary Board, has reason to believe, from the information at his disposal, that the prospects of the Congress in the Presidency as a whole are excellent, and in Bombay City he refuses to think of any Congress defeat. Of course, he expects that the candidates, their agents and volunteers, and the voters will all do their respective shares of work earnestly, without unduly relying on the reputation of the Congress to make up for any laxity on their part. In this connection we think it necessary to repeat the Congress President's suggestion that staff work is essential in elections, particularly in securing personal contact with the voters and in co-ordinating the work in different centres and departments. The candidates and their chief agents should not be content with addressing a few mass meetings but should ever be on the move, interviewing groups of voters at many places. This work is enormous and the time before us is very brief. Sardar Vallabhbhai, therefore, addressing a mass meeting at Kalbadevi on Thursday night asked every earnest Congressman to help the Congress. He said: "Every one of you here must carry the message into every home. I know, every voter will want to vote only for the Congress. But there are many who do not know yet whether their names are in the electoral list and some who don't know how to record their votes on the ballot paper. They must be taught. They must be told where to vote and how to vote." That is the work that needs to be done during the next few days. But when every possible thing has been done by the Congress workers, the last word will, of course, rest with the voters. It may mean some inconvenience to some of them to go to the polling booth. But the Sardar rightly observes: "It is impossible for the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee to take every voter in a car to the Polling Booth. You must all consider the polling booth as a place of pilgrimage. My appeal to voters is that every one of them should walk to the polling station in an orderly manner, even as you walk on a pilgrimage." We trust this appeal will meet with loyal and enthusiastic response, not only from the voters in Bombay City but also from voters at every place where elections are yet to be held and where it is physically possible to adopt the suggestion repeatedly urged by the Congress President as well as by Sardar Vallabhbhai.

Unimaginable

One cannot help reverting to the State trial that is proceeding in Moscow. The tragic story of Zinoviev and his companions is being repeated in its entirety. Like the accused in the first trial, Radek and others are charged with the gravest of crimes that it is possible for any man to commit against his country, his ideals and the State. Shaking his fists, the Public Prosecutor denounced "the criminal activity, the atrocious deeds, dumb persistence and serpentine cunning of the Trotskyist Plotters," accused the unfortunate "bandits" in the dock of not hesitating "to sell the Soviet Union to Japan and Germany" and of becoming "the advance-guard of the Fascist International."

This trial along with its predecessor suggests that all the co-workers of Lenin with their intimate lieutenants—who worked the revolution, achieved success and consolidated it against the bitter hostility of the whole world and at the greatest possible risk to themselves—were traitors. Literally all, with the one exception of M. Stalin. It is simply impossible even to imagine such a gross betrayal 'en masse' by the very leaders themselves. It is impossible to imagine that men who did not surrender to tyranny and persuasion, for over a quarter of a century, would suddenly and collectively sell away all that they fought for to the enemy. Yet this is what they are charged with. And, as in the earlier trial, the Public Prosecutor has demanded death for them.

End The Suspense

We welcome the plain-speaking indulged in by Sir Mirza Ismail in his speech proroguing the Mysore Legislative Council, regarding the States' Accession to Federation. We do so not because we are enamoured of the federal scheme, nor because we believe that the States, much less British India, will be in any way benefited by joining the Federation, but solely because we are heartily sick of this endless suspense. The Princes, under the inspiration of fatly paid foreign 'advisors', have made a fine art of their procrastination. Needless to add, there is not the least doubt in our minds that sooner or later, a sufficient number of Princes, big and small, will be dragged into joining the federal game. In the meanwhile they are trying to make the most of a bad job and to wrest a point here and a concession there, which will be, of course, at the cost of British India! We are not quite sure that at this very moment the unprincipled committee of the Princes, or of their Ministers, or of their advisers, is not engaged in dissecting some clause or other in the Federal Act. This process has been continued 'ad nauseam' for years now, and it is, therefore, with a very profound sense of relief that we have learnt from Sir Mirza Ismail's speech that Mysore is definitely joining the federation. We wish it luck, and pray that this example of prompt decision one way or other—will be soon followed by others who are yet sitting on the fence.

Vote For Mr. Munshi

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"
Sir,—Voting has begun in the Bombay Presidency for the single seat from the University of Bombay to the Legislative Assembly. The Congress has set up Sjt. K. M. Munshi as its candidate, while Dr. Vad is standing as an Independent candidate. The Registered Constituency has not forgotten the part played by Dr. Vad. His attitude to the just demands of students at the last Matriculation Examination or popularly known at the "massacre of innocents" is just an example. What was his attitude in moving a resolution, regarding the repairs to the Convocation Hall? Is it not desirable that the Graduates Constituency should prove to the country that they stand solidly for the Congress, which is a mighty political organisation? Sjt. Munshi has done innumerable services to the country and has represented the constituency between the years 1925-30. The forthcoming elections are really a test of the loyalty of the people towards the Congress. It is earnestly desirable that no Registered Graduate should fail to exercise his or her right of voting, no doubt the graduates in Native States are handicapped a little. "Vote for Sjt. Munshi" should be the slogan of every Registered Graduate.—Yours, etc.,
KANTILAL D. KORA.

Muslim League & Masses

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"
Sir—Some supporters of Mr. Jinnah and Muslim Leaguers, have made the astonishing statement, that Mr. Nehru is not in touch with Muslims as much Mr. Jinnah and Muslim Leaguers are.

The Muslim Leaguers are in touch with upper classes, but not in touch of Muslim masses. How many Muslim Kisans and workers' organisations are represented by Muslim League?

What about the Aligarh Muslim University, which has openly supported the Congress by an overwhelming majority?

To-day Civil War is going on in Spain. The Nationalists are fighting against the legally elected Government of Spain saying the religion is in danger supported by foreign Imperialism. In the same way the so-called Muslim leaders are misleading the Muslims in the name of religion and indirectly supporting British Imperialism and the slavery of India.

The vital problem facing India is poverty and unemployment. At this critical moment the so-called Muslim leaders are using the name of religion to exploit Indian masses.

How many title-holders have opposed the Government and have sacrificed their comforts for the freedom of India and welfare of Indian masses, while Mr. S. A. Brelvi suffered imprisonment for the mother country and the welfare of Indian masses. I earnestly appeal to my Muslim brethren and especially to my Khoja community to vote solidly for Mr. S. A. Brelvi and show to the world and especially to the reactionaries that Muslims are always for the freedom of India.—Yours, etc.,
KASSAMALLY M. ROOWALLA.

Indian Institute Of Science

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"
Sir,—I invite the attention of all those who are keenly interested in the acute problem of educated unemployed in our country to the recent order of the Viceroy suggesting to the Governing Council of the Indian Institute of Science a panel of three names for the post of Registrar. These men, it is understood, are retired Directors of Public Instruction in India already drawing large pensions. In spite of this fact, they are offered a high salary of Rs. 1,200 for the job. And yet this Rs. 1,200 per month is considered not enough for these highly pensioned "distinguished educationalists of considerable administrative experience." A doubt is even expressed in the press if anyone of the three gentlemen named would accept the offer.

Without exaggeration, Sir, may I point out that we have in our country, Indians with even greater ability than those of non-Indian Directors of Public Instruction. But the pity is that our men are not given adequate opportunity to show their administrative capacity. Sincerely I trust that the readers of my letter will endeavor to organise a public movement to put an end to (1) this practice of giving pensioners further "plums"; (2) the system of giving extension to officials who have passed the retiring age. And finally urge the reduction of retirement age from 55 to 50.

I trust the members of the Legislative Assembly will take up this question of the "Registrar for Indian Institute of Science."—Yours, etc.,
"UNDER-DOG."

Our Railway Policy

Indian Interests Sacrificed To British Exploiters Under Orders From The Secretary Of State

(By A Student Of Railway
History.)

State Management of Railways in Germany, Japan and other foreign countries has proved very successful. India can profit by that experience.

But foreign experience is not our only guide. Long before Germany, Japan and other foreign countries began State Management of Railways, India had begun and made a great success of it. In the year 1870 the Government of India, with the full approval of the Home Government, deliberately adopted the policy of working railways by means of State agency, instead of by joint-stock companies. The reasons which induced the Government to adopt this policy were set forth in full detail in the able Minute of Lord Lawrence, the Viceroy, dated January 9, 1869. This policy succeeded beyond all expectations, amply justifying Lord Lawrence's anticipations, although the operations had been hampered by Home Office interference. But in 1881 Parliamentary influence had been exerted by British capitalists, unfair and misleading comparisons were made between State and Company Management, and a reversal of the policy was proposed by the Secretary of State for India, on the pretext that it was impossible to combine the necessary rigidity of the Government system with the freedom of action required for the successful management of railways. Lord Ripon came to India pledged in advance to a reversal of the policy of State Management.

The proposition from the Secretary of State met with universal condemnation from the high English officials of the Secretariat of the Government of India, and Minutes expressing its fallacies were sent in by the Under-Secretary for Railways, by the Accountant-General and by Sir Guldorf L. Molesworth, Consulting Engineer to the Government of India for State Railways.

India Government's Protest

The proposition from the Secretary of State met with universal condemnation from the high English officials of the Secretariat of the Government of India, and Minutes expressing its fallacies were sent in by the Under-Secretary for Railways, by the Accountant-General and by Sir Guldorf L. Molesworth, Consulting Engineer to the Government of India for State Railways.

near to the Government of India for State Railways.

The Under-Secretary for Railways asked why the Government should not equally divest itself of the control of Telegraphs, Post Office and Irrigation. He showed that the arguments that had been opposed to State control (Management) were based on a condition of things that had long since passed away; that the Rajputana Railway was better managed than many of the companies' railways; and that if the Home authorities were as intimately acquainted with the management of companies as the Indian railway officials, the Secretary of State would be less desirous of uprooting one that had proved itself efficient.

An Expert's View

As Consulting Engineer Sir Guldorf wrote:—"Although this policy (of State Management) has been successful beyond all expectations, yet after ten years a reversal of it has been proposed, as it is now assumed that it is impossible to combine the necessary rigidity of the Government system with the freedom of action required for the successful management of railways."

"I have watched the working of the policy of 1870 most narrowly, as an unbiased observer, from its commencement, and although there have been individual failures, as might be expected, I can assert without hesitation that there is no ground whatever for such an assumption. Many of the State (managed) Railways are yielding a far better return on their capital than the Guaranteed Railways at the same stage of their growth. Most of the comparisons that have been made between Guaranteed and State railway management have been very unfair and misleading. The assumption that has been made respecting the efficiency of the agency of Joint Stock Companies and the efficiency of that of the State entirely ignored the past history of railways in India."

State Management More

Economical

The Accountant-General in his Minute characterised the dispatch of the Secretary of State as an attempt to make the most of a bad case, containing an amount of special pleading that might well take in anyone not well posted up in the history of Indian railways. He asked how it was possible that substitution of private agency could compensate for the heavy fine the scheme would involve on the revenues of India. He pointed out the folly of expecting better results from a Board in London than from one possessing such practical knowledge and experience as the Director-General of Railways. He stated that the control of railway companies gave more trouble to the State than the control of State railways. He showed that the State had borne the burden of bringing the State railways to their valuable and efficient condition, and that it was absurd to invite so-called private enterprise to step in and share the profits, taking so much out of the pocket of the Indian taxpayers. He said that that railways had been eminently successful and that State management was more economical than that of companies.

"Drop It Quietly"

It was reasonable to suppose that these strong protests, emanating from officers of such high position, might have been the subject of a Select Committee to investigate the question, but when these Minutes were submitted to Lord Ripon, he noted upon them: "This may be allowed to drop quietly." India was sacrificed to political exigencies.

The above facts relating to Indian railways gleaned from such an authentic source as a paper read before the East India Association of London, in 1916, by Sir Guldorf, are here presented to the Indian public in general and the elected Members of the Legislative Assembly in particular, as there is imminent danger, just now of another great betrayal of the interests of India to British capitalists, with regard to the B. N. Railway and the M. and S. M. Railways. Like the one perpetrated by Lord Ripon.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

AN "HONOUR" DECLINED

According to a message from the Hague Vice-admiral Degraaf, who was invited by the League of Nations to become the High Commissioner of Danzig, has declined the appointment. So that is the end for the time being of the statesmanlike efforts of Mr. Anthony Eden. But we are not surprised that Admiral Degraaf should have declined to accept the appointment. No decent minded man can easily accept the "honour" of being defied and insulted by men like Herr Greisler, who has established a record for uncouth unmannerliness in international assemblies. Admiral Degraaf probably knew what he would have been obliged to put up without any support from the League of Nations, which has earned the reputation of never failing to submit to rudeness, bullying and insults. The Danzig imbroglio further exposes the lack of backbone and moral courage in the League.

UNIVERSITY FOR SIND

The principle of Universities being formed on a linguistic and regional basis is now generally accepted, though there may be certain educationalists here and there who yet swear by the present system of having a few central institutions. But even the most confirmed of these will have no valid objection against the proposal of having a separate University for Sind, which was mooted at the recent Golden Jubilee celebrations of the D. J. Sind College of Karachi. The union of Sind with the Bombay Presidency was a political anomaly of the first order which could be justified on the ground of historical exigency alone. Now that Sind is a separate province, there is no reason why Sindhis should continue to depend upon far away Bombay for their educational and cultural advancement. The students of Sind cannot maintain that close and vital touch with the Bombay University which they ought to with their Alma Mater. Nor, on the other hand, can the Alma Mater devote the necessary attention to the intellectual growth of her alumni from a distance of hundreds of miles. The claim of a separate University for Sind stands self-vindicated.

WOMEN AND PEACE MOVEMENT

Not the least important of the various problems discussed at the Conference of the Bombay Women's Council was the one regarding the formation of a special section of the Council to study international relations, and actively devote itself to the cause of peace. Mrs. Wilkie Brown, who mooted this excellent suggestion, urged in her speech that "definite work for international goodwill and peace should be a part of the feminist movement everywhere. She called upon women all the world over to leave their passive role 'vis-a-vis' war and take definite steps to combat militarism. Referring to the conscription of women, which is one of the most hideous results of the present war mania which has gripped the world, Mrs. Brown rightly observed that it would be a terrible thing if women, whose instincts were all for the giving and preserving of life, should come to such a pass. As far as Indian women are concerned, we are quite confident that they will quite support the cause of international peace. For Indian nationalism is neither narrow in its outlook nor restricted in its scope, and Indian women, who have been in the vanguard of the national movement, will certainly not lag behind even in the cause of international peace."

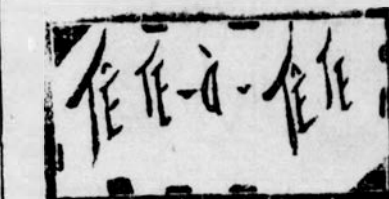

BETTER MILK FOR BOMBAY

At last there is some evidence of an effort to solve the city's milk problem. The Committee appointed under the auspices of the Fort Co-operative Institute with Mr. Jamnadas M. Mehta, Mayor, as Chairman, have formulated a detailed scheme whereby, with the co-operation of the Municipal Corporation, they hope to improve the supply of milk in Bombay city and suburbs. It is proposed to form a Co-operative Milk Supply Union which should provide clean and sanitary stables for cattle to the producers and to arrange for the distribution of unadulterated and hygienic milk throughout the city. This we regard as a step in the right direction. At present the stables for milk cattle are most filthy places, and the crude method of milk delivery far from being sanitary. Any scheme, therefore, which seeks to better the conditions under which milk is produced and distributed and promotes the cause of civic health should be encouraged by the Corporation as well as the public.

SECONDARY EDUCATION COMMITTEE

The U. P. Government have appointed one more committee, a Secondary Education Reorganization Committee, which is one more evidence of their growing faith in committees. The committee is fortunate in having as its president Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru who, it will be remembered, acted in the same capacity in the recent Unemployment Committee also, and as such has already made a first-hand study of the whole problem. The terms of reference of the Committee cover a wide field. It is, in particular asked to advise upon the suggestions of the Inter-University Board regarding the length of the various courses from the primary to the collegiate stage. The report of the newly appointed Committee will be awaited with interest, for the conditions obtaining in the secondary educa-

"Yet another type of hooliganism awaited Congress leaders. When Dr. Chandulal accompanied by Randhi Desai, Congress candidate for the rural seat in the lower house, and others, someone threw handfuls of dust. The car continued on its way without paying heed to this. Further down the road the car was stopped by two big palm tree trunks. The obstacle was removed and the 'vehicle went on.'"

—Surat Correspondent of "Times of India".

"The obstacle was removed and the vehicle went on." Symbolic, eh!

Equally symbolic, of course, was the incident in Charkhari State, where the President's car with the national flag went on despite police obstruction.

We are intrigued to read the following in a report of the speech recently delivered at Ahmedabad Law College by Mr. V. N. Chandavarkar.

"There was, he added, a charge against the University that it was getting more and more fossilized, but the Vice-Chancellor appealed to the students not to be discouraged by this fact."

On the other hand, inspired by the example of their "alma mater", they should all, individually and collectively, strive to reach the same worthy goal.

After confessing that he was once a briefless barrister the Vice-Chancellor asked the future lawyers to be always sure of their facts. "Never get up to say anything unless you are sure of your facts."

Then alone can they know what other "facts" they require and arrange for them, accordingly.

The ex-Briefless Barrister de-claimed with warmth, "Yours is a noble profession."

And what more can Democracy want?

Apropos of the Moscow trial No. 2, it is not yet possible to say when Comrade Vishinsky himself will be charged with the "monstrous crimes" of being a Trotskyist bandit, an advance guard of the Fascist International concerned to sell the Soviet Union to Japan and Germany.

Of course, it isn't at all unlikely. On the contrary, since every great revolutionary is going the way of the Fascist International, it would be most amazing if Vishinsky didn't go—to be followed in due course by Litvinoff, Voroshiloff and finally Comrade Stalin himself.

"Nerve Centre Of Indian Politics" BOMBAY MUST VINDICATE HER HONOUR AT POLLS

Insult To City's Intelligence To Canvass For Votes, Says Sardar

"Orissa, a small poverty-stricken Province in a corner of India, where the Plenary Session of the Congress has never been held and where prominent leaders of the Congress have not had opportunities to go, had shown to the World which way the wind was blowing. Congress had captured the citadel of the Provincial Government and the result of the elections there was a pointer in itself."

"When out of the way Orissa has stood by the Congress, what is Bombay which is claimed to be the nerve centre of Indian Politics and the stronghold of the Indian National Congress going to do? "Could there be any doubt, whatever, that all the Congress candidates in Bombay and the Presidency will be returned by a thumping majority? I for one have absolutely no doubt about it. Bombay will never allow its fair name, its honour and prestige to be sullied by the defeat of even a single Congress candidate."

So said Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, President of the Congress Central Parliamentary Board addressing a mammoth meeting at Mandvi on Friday night. He spoke for more than 45 minutes, sitting on a chair as he had not yet recovered from his recent illness.

PEOPLE'S RESPONSIBILITY

Mr. K. M. Munshi first addressed the gathering and said that the responsibility of the Congress victory in the forthcoming elections was entirely on the shoulders of the people and not on the candidates. It must be remembered by the voters that those who were opposing the Congress candidates in the A B C and D Wards would get all the three votes cast for them and if the Congress was to come out victorious, they should get four times the number of voters that the rival candidates get, as the Congress voters would have to divide their votes equally among the three candidates. Hence it was essential that Bombay should go to the polls with full strength. It should be remembered that the victory of the Congress was the victory of the nation, victory for the fight for Independence that was being carried on by the Congress.

VOTERS' SACRED DUTY.

Mr. Rattilal Gandhi, a Congress candidate for the Upper House in the course of his speech said that it was the sacred duty of the voters to go to the polling booths on the election day and cast their votes in favour of the Congress candidates.

Dr. Jethalal Vora in the course of his speech said that due to the communal riots in the city more than 4,000 voters from the Mandvi Ward had left the locality. It was not known where they were staying. Possibly many of them do not know that they were voters. He appealed to those who were previously residents in the locality to visit the Congress Office at Mandvi and take the trouble of finding out whether they were voters or not.

SARDAR ON HIS MISSION.

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel said that he had not come there to ask voters to cast their vote. In favour of the Congress. He considered it an insult to the intelligence of the people of Bombay to come and canvass for votes in favour of the Congress. Bombay voters know their duty towards the Congress. They have always stood by the Congress and there was absolutely no need to tell them that they should vote for Congress. But the voters and the people should realise that the forthcoming elections were the first of its kind in the history of India after the advent of the British. In Bombay itself there were nearly five lakhs of voters who will be called upon within a few days to say whether they were for Independence for India, for which the Congress had been carrying the fight for the last so many years or for the continuation of British Rule and for working the New Constitution.

WHY OUTSIDERS?

Continuing the Sardar said that the Congress had been fighting for Indians carrying on the administration of their country as the Englishmen do in England, as Germans do in Germany and as the French do in France. Congress does not want outsiders to interfere in the administration of its own land. Towards that end the Congress passed the Independence resolution at Lahore and since then on every 26th of January the people of India had been taking a Pledge called the Independence Pledge. Government had got terribly afraid of even that Pledge and had ordered the confiscation of all printed matter containing that pledge. It was given only for the mighty Indian National Congress to openly declare and fight for Independence for India. No other organisation in the country had the courage to take a decision like that much less to carry on a fight towards that goal.

SURPRISE FOR SARDAR.

The Sardar was surprised and expressed pity at the fact that there were Indians like Mr. A. D. Shroff who wanted Dominion Status, for India; wanted Britain to control the administration, at least indirectly. It was for the voters to decide whether they wanted Independence for their country or whether they wanted "Dominion Status"—two words to which some Indians were still sticking though the British statesmen had refused to recognise those words so far as India was concerned.

Those who were opposing the Congress in the city, were individuals who belonged to no party, had no programme nor did they stand for any particular principle. How could the voter say that those people would stand for any fight for Indian Independence? It should be remembered that the world was watching events in India very keenly and in case the Congress failed at the Elections, the Government would carry on open propaganda to the effect that the people of India were not for Indian Freedom and they wanted British Rule to continue.

ORISSA'S EXAMPLE.

Far off Orissa, which had not had the good fortune of holding even a single plenary Session of the Congress, which was prevented from holding the Session a few years ago due to the Government ban, had shown to the world which way the wind was blowing. It had elected 33 Congressmen to an Assembly of 60. Three more Congressmen were sure to be elected. When that was the case with Orissa what was Bombay going to do. Was it prepared for the shifting of the centre of activity from Bombay to Orissa? He for one was confident that Bombay would solidly stand by the Congress.

FOR UPPER HOUSE.

The Congress had set up Mr. Rattilal Gandhi and Mrs. Hansa Mehta to the Upper House from Bombay which could return four members. He appealed that the voters should divide their four votes equally among the two Congress candidates. Two of the Congress candidates for the Lower House had been elected unopposed, namely Mrs. Lilavati Munshi and Mr. Bhanwanji Arjun Khimji. Then there were Messrs. K. F. Nariman, Nagindas Master and S. K. Patil from A. B. C. and D Wards; Messrs. D. D. Glider, Jina-bhai Joshi and P. Baloo from the E and F Wards and Messrs. B. G. Kher, Wandreker and Songaonker from the G and Suburban Wards. The general electorate should divide their votes equally among the Congress candidates. The voters would be doing a disservice to the National cause if they did not divide their votes and gave all their votes to a single Congress candidate.

TEST FOR BOMBAY GRADUATES.

Then there was the University seat contested by Mr. K. M. Munshi on behalf of the Congress. Voting papers had been already sent to the Voters. The Graduates who were intelligent people would no doubt vote for the Congress candidate. It should be remembered that the elections was a test of the Bombay Graduates and he did not think they needed being told what they should do. Then there was the woman's seat from Girgaum. It should have gone uncontested in favour of the Congress. But knowing human nature one could have expected a contest even from a woman.

The Sardar reviewed the position of the Congress in the different Congress Provinces in the Presidency and said that he was confident that the Congress would come out victorious in all provinces. The situation to-day was such that in certain places there was a feeling that Congress would have done better to have set up more candidates than they had.

With the singing of 'Vande Mataram,' the meeting terminated.

Jaya Raj

BOMBAY, Jan. 29. Mr. Jaya Raj, a Member of the Native Share and Stock Brokers' Association, giving evidence before the Stock Exchange Enquiry Committee, on Thursday morning, stated that crises occurred on the Bombay Stock Exchange more frequently than on the other Stock Exchange of the world, and suggested that, since speculation could not be abolished altogether, it should be made expensive; and with this view recommended,

(1) The imposition of a speculation tax on forward contracts, (2) Increase in the rates of stamp on forward contracts, and (3) Imposition of margin requirements equal to say 30 per cent. of one's commitments.

PENALTIES FOR BREACH OF RULES. He was also of the opinion that the Bombay Securities Contracts Control Act, 1925, required drastic amendments. He considered it desirable to provide in the Act: (I) For the imposition of penalties for the breach of any of the rules of the Exchange, (II) For the removal of a Director or Directors of the Board by members under certain circumstances, and (III) For the deposit of an adequate margin on every forward transaction.

FOR STATISTICAL DEPT. Mr. Jaya Raj further advocated the establishment in the Stock Exchange of a Statistical Department whose function would be to receive from members, returns of their daily commitments, and, on the basis of these returns, to keep the Board of Directors informed as to the state of the accounts of individual members and of the total volume of business in the market so that the Board might be able to take action without delay, should the accounts reach a dangerous stage.

In this connection, Mr. Jaya Raj informed the Committee that the major portion of the speculation in the Stock Exchange was carried on by brokers themselves, and for that reason, he would advise that the rule regarding margins should apply to brokers as well as to clients.—A.P.

Azad Commends Brelvi's Candidature Best Opportunity For Bombay Muslims To Demonstrate Their Love For Freedom

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad has issued the following statement:— I was very glad to learn that Mr. Syed Abdullah Brelvi, Editor, Bombay Chronicle, is a candidate for the Bombay Legislative Assembly. His ability, his services and his work as an Editor prove him to be the best of all candidates. I appeal to all voters that if they wish to use their votes honestly it becomes their duty to cast it in his favour.

MUSLIMS' DUTY.

I appeal to the Muslims of Bombay not to commit again the mistake that has often been made in the past. They should not, for a moment allow themselves to be misled that by supporting a Congress candidate they will be doing harm to their own collective interest. Even if they wish to view the situation only from the point of view of their own collective interest, the only right path of success for them is that with increasing enthusiasm they should support the Congress and not keep aloof from it. They cannot do anything by keeping aloof from the majority. There are only two courses before them. Either by supporting the Congress, to win the sympathy and help of enlightened and tolerant Hindus or, by keeping aloof from it, to strengthen then the hands of fanatical Hindus. Unfortunately they have adopted the second course and what has been the consequence is known to them.

The present elections have provided for them a valuable opportunity. If they seize and take advantage of this opportunity they will soon see what a favourable atmosphere for the satisfaction of their collective aims is created.

ONLY OPPORTUNITY

The Congress Parliamentary Board has nominated Mr. Syed Abdullah Brelvi. It is in the interests of Muslims to support his candidature with all enthusiasm and prove to the country that they are unconditionally with the Congress, and are not a whit behind any other community in their efforts to win the independence of the country and promote its welfare. It is only this opportunity which properly utilised will remove all the obstacles in their path.

But if they miss this opportunity and do not stand by the Congress, they must remember that they will never be able to achieve their aims by any other means. The opportunity will disappear with the same swiftness with which it has come, but the consequence of using or missing it will remain for long.

LISBON, January 29.

The whole crew of the Dutch steamer "Jonge Jacobus" (1,757 tons) has been drowned. The crew were forced to abandon the ship and take to the boats in a storm off the Portuguese Coast. The news was brought here by a Dutch steamer which endeavoured to render assistance. A radio was picked up from the "Jonge Jacobus" at midnight which said "we are abandoning the ship in lifeboats. If we don't land safely, tell our families our last thought was for them."

The "Santos" safely entered the Tagus with the help of trawlers. Four other vessels at present are unable to enter Lisbon, as it is impossible to send out a pilot. Another violent gale is threatening.—Reuter.

BOMBAY, Friday.
The four day session of the Bombay Presidency Women's Conference concluded this afternoon.
NEW OFFICE-BEARERS

In the elections held for the year 1937, Mrs. Manecklal Premchand was elected President of B.P. W. C. and Mrs. Maclean the Vice-President

The following twenty members were elected members of the Managing Committee:—Miss K. J. Bhargava, Mrs. Roshan Bhargava, Mrs. Wilkie Brown, Mrs. L. G. Currimbhoy, Mrs. J. R. Doctor, Mrs. S. R. Dongerkerry, Miss Leah Jirad, Miss P. M. Kanga, Mrs. F. Low, Mrs. M. R. Madgavkar, Dr. Mrs. Hazel Machada, Mrs. R. P. Masani, Dr. Miss J. E. Mistry, Mrs. Sulochand Modi, Dr. Mrs. M. No. ronha, Dr. Kashibai Nowrange, Mrs. D. Racoosin, Mrs. N. M. Rajji, Mrs. Sumud Shah and Mrs. Shuffi Tyabji.

TALKS BY MISS KHANDWALLA.

Miss Bhalariao, and Mrs. Virmaki Manilal Desai were given on Friday morning on "Maternity Welfare" amongst Industrial Women Workers, Working of Co-operative Societies amongst labourers, public health, and the need for utilising religious funds (Charitable Trusts) to public educational purposes. Speaking on "Maternity Welfare," Miss Khandwalla said that maternity benefit Act should be operative amongst industrial women workers and urged that the present position with regard to the creches should be maintained. She also proposed that maternity leave be granted before and after confinement with full wages and advocated equal wages to women with men.

SICKNESS AMONGST WORKERS.

The problem of sickness amongst the workers in Bombay, was the subject of a talk by Mrs. E. G. Currimbhoy.

Sickness insurance, she pleaded, was an absolute necessity.

The Labour Sub-Committee report was submitted by Miss G. Gokhale.

She said members of the Committee had visited several chawls. Municipal as well as private. They found that there was much to be desired in the upkeep of the chawls.

A list of grievances, remedies, and improvements bearing on the conditions in the chawls was circulated by them to the members of the Corporation, with a request that they should have a round in the chawls, so that they could appraise themselves of the actual conditions.

A correct understanding of the conditions may move the Municipal Corporators to make the necessary grants, Miss Gokhale said, when the questions of improvement came up.

CHAUPATTY FORESHORE.
On a motion of Mrs. Maclean a resolution in urging the improvement of the condition of the Chaupatty foreshore was later passed.

Mrs. Maclean urged that some space should be reserved for children, the widening of the footpaths, providing of restaurants on the opposite side of the road and prohibition of hawkers.

Or else the foreshore which belonged to the Government and which was only made over to the Municipality for purposes of sanitation only, should be returned to Government, who may be turned of a proper scheme of development.

RETURN IT TO GOVT.
A resolution to the same effect that it should be made over to Government since the Corporation had signally failed to control the hawkers or maintain sanitation was moved by Dr. Miss Mistry and was accepted.

Mr. Guzdar of the Municipal (hawkers) Licensing Department, enlightened the audience in the matter.

RELIEVE OVERCROWDING.
A resolution from the Chair urging the Municipality to provide additional housing accommodation thereby relieve overcrowding and reduce the slub conditions to which overcrowding gives rise in Municipal chawls.

The Conference wished "bon voyage" to Mrs. Sumud Shah, the out-going energetic Secretary, on her forthcoming visit to Europe.

The out-going President Mrs. F. S. Talyarkhan, President for the past two years, also came in for due tributes at the hands of Mrs. Low (Vice-President of the past year) and Mrs. Maneck Lal Premchand, President of the year.

A few suggestions in regard to work during the year were made by some members.

Mrs. Wilkie Brown said that the importance of forming a group and working for world peace and international goodwill needed no stressing.

Mrs. Nimbkar suggested that the name of the Sub-Committee for Mentally Deficient Children be changed to "Special Education of Children Sub-Committee" as some mothers would not like their children to be stamped as 'mentally deficient.'

She also pleaded that more facts should be made available in the next census and for this B. P. W. C. should approach the authorities.

Bombay Leads In Film Industry

Sethna Makes Out Case For Protecting National Enterprise

A large number of guests responded to the invitation of Sir Phiroze Sethna, President, Motion Picture Society of India, and Mr. Chimanlal B. Desai, President, Second All-India Motion Picture Convention, and attended a tea party arranged to meet the Bombay Presidency members of the Central Legislature at the Taj Mahal Hotel on Friday evening.

Prominent among those present were Sir M. Visweswaraya, Raja Bahadur Shivali Govindlal Motilal, Mr. A. G. Gray, Mr. C. B. Mehta, Mr. B. V. Jadhav, Mr. K. M. Munshi, Sir Rahimtoola Chintoy, Sir Sorabji Pochkhanawala, and Mr. W. D. M. Clarke (H.M.'s Trade Commissioner), besides several diplomatic representatives of foreign Governments.

After refreshments, Sir Phiroze Sethna and Seth Chimanlal B. Desai made short speeches welcoming the guests and appealing for support to the aims and objects of the Motion Picture Society of India.

Sir Phiroze Sethna in the course of his speech said:—
"Our Society has made several representations to the Central as well as Provincial Governments, and so far have led six deputations to the Members for Finance, Commerce and Railways, and Industries and Labour of the Government of India. In all these representations and deputations, the Society has pointed out the importance of the film industry, its handicaps and the urgent need for necessary assistance and encouragement, from Government."

The activities of the Society are now bearing fruit slowly but steadily. Our activities give an effective reply to the most malicious criticisms levelled against the Society which is trying to enhance and safeguard the interests of the film industry.

PROTECTION FOR SWADESHI FILMS.
On behalf of the Society, represented the entire film industry of the country, I may say that we do not by any means desire to shut out the import of foreign films, but on the contrary will be always glad to have the best productions exhibited in India. At the same time, we wish to see that the interests of the indigenous industries are always safeguarded, and we want to be masters in our country to tackle our own problems as is the case in other countries.

As I have said before, Bombay is the home of the film industry and evidently maintains its position as you can judge from the figures of production in this country. The industry started in India somewhere about 1913 but figures are available from only 1920. From that date to 1930 in eleven years there were produced in Bombay 917 silent films and in Calcutta 290 silent films. From 1931 we began to produce talkies in addition to silent pictures. In the five years ending 1935 there were produced in Bombay 279 silent pictures and 423 talkies making a total of 702. The silent pictures of course have been less and less and only 6 were made in Bombay in 1934 and none thereafter. In Calcutta as well there are not paying attention to silent pictures and in 1935 there was only one silent picture produced there.

BIG NATIONAL INDUSTRY.
There are altogether only 674 cinemas in the whole of India at present. Of these 304 show exclusively Indian films, 157 exclusively foreign films while the remaining 215 show both Indian and foreign films. There are as I have said 304 cinemas showing only Indian films in the whole of India but cities like New York, London, Paris or Berlin have each of them more than 304 cinemas each which proves that we have yet a long way to go. It costs Rs. 75 to 90,000 to produce a good

Corporation Move To Tax Dogs In City

The Municipal Corporation on Thursday adopted the budget estimates for the official year 1937-38 on the revenue side as recommended by the Standing Committee.

An attempt to reduce the taxes on the hack victorias and horses was made but without success.

Tax On Dogs

The House approved of the report of the Law Committee to amend the Municipal Act to tax dogs in the city.

At the outset debate was resumed on the Law, Revenue and General Purposes Committee's report on the question of amending the Municipal Act with a view to empowering the Municipal Corporation to dissolve any of the Statutory or Consultative Committees.

The Law Committee recommended to drop the question against which Mr. Nariman had moved an amendment the previous day, to request the Municipal Commissioner to draft an amendment to the Act so as to empower the Municipal Corporation to dissolve statutory and consultative committees.

On Friday resuming the debate Prof. V. G. Rao opposed the amendment and said no special reason was given for the change in the Constitution. Besides if the amendment was passed it would mean a vote of censure on the Standing Committee.

Dr. J. N. Choksy thought in the event of a conflict between the Corporation and the Standing Committee, it was better to have the powers for the Corporation to dissolve that body.

NO JUSTIFICATION.
Mr. A. Soares said he was a member of the Corporation for many years past, but did not know of any incident which justified such powers as demanded by the amendment.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarakadas advised the members of the Standing Committee to be broad-minded and not to oppose the amendment.

Mr. Meherally said the Standing Committee being a subordinate body the Corporation should have powers to dissolve it.

At this stage closure was moved and Mr. Nariman's amendment was thrown out by 24 votes against 11. The original proposition was carried by a large majority.

TAX ON VICTORIAS.
The House then took up the revenue side of the budget estimates for 1937-38.

Prof. V. G. Rao moved to tax victorias and animals at the maximum rate and to determine the talkie picture in India. Therefore, because there were 247 talkies made in India in 1935 they must have cost anything from a crore and a half to two crores, it is estimated that eleven and a quarter crores of rupees have been invested in this country and it gives employment to 25,000 people.

These figures justify our claim that the industry deserves far greater attention from Government than it is receiving at present. We would very much like our Government to help this industry as is done in other countries.

Besides Government, the Railways might, with advantage extend to us a helping hand. We are sorry that so far they have not acceded to our request but it is high time that they do so.

NEED FOR RESEARCH.
Again I would like to emphasize the point that scientific research is one of the most vital needs for industries and it has been repeatedly urged on behalf of the Society that without liberal financial assistance from the State, the industry in its present state of organization is incapable of making any progress towards the fulfilment of this need. Unfortunately, however, while the Government has recognised the value of research in the case of other industries they have given no sympathetic consideration so far to our demands in the matter.

In fact we think that because it is now ten years since Government had appointed the first Indian Cinematograph Committee, it is high time that they now appoint a fresh committee to investigate into all matters connected with, may I say the daily growing film industry in India.

The function terminated with the presentation of films showing the stages of progress of the Indian film industry.

EFFICIENCY

One of the wonders of the modern world is the efficiency of the machinery available. Its main defect is that it cannot work to maximum efficiency unless the human beings who use it do their part efficiently also. On a Railway, or the sea, or in a motor car we can rely on this part of the work being done efficiently by experts employed for the purpose. With the telephone to a large extent this is not the case.

Everyone who dials an automatic telephone must, if the proper results are to be obtained, do so with care. In particular:—

(1) The receiver must not be tapped after the receiver has been removed and the dial tone has been obtained. (The dial tone once heard will easily be recognised; it has been described as somewhat like the purring of a cat. It creates the impression on the mind that the line is alive as opposed to being dead as it is normally before the dial tone comes on.)

If the rest is tapped after the dial tone has been obtained the number dialled will not be obtained; a wrong number will be instead. It is essential not to attempt to dial before the dial tone has been heard. If, when the receiver has been removed, the dial tone is not heard within a few seconds, the receiver should be placed and removed again.

(2) In the process of dialling it is most important to rotate the dial to the full extent necessary for the finger to reach the "stop" position on the dial otherwise a wrong number or no number will be the result.

THERE WAS AN OLD DAME OF MASHOBRA.
No, on second thoughts we will not deal with this serious subject in a limerick. This old lady for years found that her telephone would not work properly and duly complained to that effect. After much trouble it was ascertained that she did not rotate the dial fully to the point of "Stop." When the necessity of doing so was explained to her her answer was that she had no time. The real point was of course that a fraction of a second more spent on dialling would have produced what she wanted and that the time she was spending was all being wasted.

In one thing the old lady was right. She insisted on using only an up-to-date Directory. Old Directories are the source of many wrong numbers and as such should be destroyed.

In Bombay every effort is made to ensure the efficiency of the telephone service. The calling rate is high and the charges are low:—

A quarter month.
IN AN OFFICE Rs. 72-8 Rs. 25
IN A RESIDENCE Rs. 45-0 Rs. 16

A Party Line for Rs. 34-0 Rs. 12
Subscribers will obtain the best possible results if they will take steps to see that those who use the telephone do so with due care and with consideration for all other subscribers.

N.B.—All references are to purely imaginary persons and not to any one dead, alive or to be born, as we have no desire to create trouble; we only want subscribers to avoid it.

Animals Shock Sarda Supporters

Experiments Prove Early "Marriage" Healthy

NEW DELHI, Jan. 28.

Supporters of Sarda Act will be shocked to learn that early mating in animals has resulted in improvement of stock.

Experiments have been proceeding at the Imperial Agricultural Research Institute, New Delhi, for last 3 years to find out whether by improving breeding of calves from birth in accordance with the English standard of cattle rearing it was possible to bring these calves to suitable size and development for breeding at earlier age, i.e., to start bulls serving at eighteen months instead of three years and heifers and calves at eighteen months instead of two years and six months.

These experiments over a period of three years show very clearly that neither deterioration nor weakening of herd had occurred on the other hand period of milching in cows had increased by about a year.

Animals born as a result of this experiment were shown to-day to the members of Advisory Board of Imperial Council of Agricultural Research who are now in Delhi.

They appeared to be perfect in every way but some of the veterinary experts told the representative of the Associated Press that it was too early to form conclusion.—A.P.

Sind Demands University

KARACHI: January 28.

A strong plea for a separate University for the new Province of Sind was made by the speakers, who took part in the celebrations of Golden Jubilee of D. J. Sind College, a premier educational institution in Sind.

It was suggested that the money collected by the King George Memorial Committee should be utilised for the starting of a medical college.

A scheme for the establishment of an Agricultural College was also unfolded. There are three arts colleges in Sind.

January 17, 1887 being the foundation day of the College, the Golden Jubilee celebrations began on Sunday.

Addresses were delivered by the principal and the chief past student Mr. H. K. Kirpalani, Chief Secretary to the Sind Government.

Old boys had gathered strong from all over the province to participate in the celebrations.

The college was started in 1887 with 28 students only at present there are 925 students (139 girl students) and the budget runs into a lakh and a half every year.

POLLING BOOTHS FOR ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS

Points For Voters About Electoral Roll Arrangements

One more step has been taken in connection with the elections, as the Collector of Bombay has now published polling booths where the voters have to go on the appropriate dates to cast their votes in favour of their chosen candidates. But the publication of the polling booths leaves a great deal to be explained.

1. The arrangements of names in the electoral roll is alphabetical, and not made with reference to localities.
2. The arrangement is according to English alphabets.
3. The names are classified on the basis of the first letter of the personal (or Christian) name of the voter.

THREE POINTS

These three points must be borne in mind when each voter tries to ascertain the polling booth to which he has to go. Particularly the educated voters ought to know these points so that they can be of use to the vast majority of voters who will not be able to ascertain their polling booth without outside aid.

All the names of voters belonging to one ward being arranged in the alphabetical order irrespective of localities, the distribution of voters among the booths is also based on the letters of the alphabet. The number of voters for each booth has been fixed according to the space available in each polling booth. Therefore there has been no uniformity even in the distribution of voters among the polling booths.

FOR WOMEN VOTERS

Another point of importance to be noted is that the polling booths for the women voters are quite separate from those for men voters.

It is very well-known that A, B, C, D. Wards constitute one general constituency. The Collector has fixed altogether 23 polling stations for this constituency. "Five of these polling booths are meant entirely for women." The following are the polling stations for A and B Wards:—

A WARD POLLING STATIONS
1. Town Hall, Fort, Bombay. Letters A to H (Nos. 1 to 7,486).

Accused Not Entitled To Have Copy Of Confession

Sessions Judge Gives Decision On Law Point In Incendiarism Case

LAHORE, Jan. 27
Whether an accused is entitled to have a copy of his confession before the police—was the important point of law, which was decided to-day by the Sessions Judge of Lahore.

In the incendiarism case in which a Hindu youth, Hiralal Seth, stands prosecuted, Mr. Khairat Ram Kalia, Defence Counsel, applied to the trial Magistrate for a copy of the accused's confession before the police, but the Magistrate rejected the application.

Counsel filed a revision against the order of the Magistrate in the Sessions Court.

The Sessions judge after hearing the arguments of the defence Counsel and the Public Prosecutor rejected the petition.

The same Court also rejected another petition in which it was prayed that the accused should not be kept in segregation, but should be kept along with other prisoners of his status or in the alternative he be released on bail.—A. P.

FILM FARE FOR THE WEEK

MARLENE DIETRICH IN GARDEN OF ALLAH At The Empire

For his second independent effort, David O. Selznick, the brilliant young producer who last season inaugurated Selznick International Pictures with the delightful "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has gone into the technicolour field. The result is a truly breath-taking production of the great Robert Hichens' love story, "The Garden of Allah", co-starring Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer at the Empire this evening, that magically catches the mystic, romantic atmosphere of the desert that pervades the novel.

The use of technicolour miraculously transforms both stars into new and more exciting personalities and the fair beauty of Dietrich provides a perfect foil for the dark-eyed handsomeness of Boyer. Truly you have never seen the exotic Marlene until you see her in technicolour! She is dazzling in the newly-revealed glory of golden hair, blue eyes and flawless creamy complexion.

The immortal romance of a man and woman from different worlds who found a great love under the spell of the desert moon offers both stars roles that are made to order for them and both give the best performance of their careers.

The Story

Marlene Dietrich is divinely feminine and alluring as Domiri Enfiladen, the lovely heroine of Hichens' novel, the European girl who, at the death of the father to whom she has devoted several years of her life, goes to Beni-Mora, the parish of the kindly Father Roubier in the Algerian desert, seeking a new life.

Here she meets the strange, brooding handsome Boris Androvsky, who is obviously disturbed by a deep secret sorrow.

Unknown to her, Boris is actually a Trappist monk who has fled from the monastery after taking the eternal vows and is torn by the terrible inner struggle between his duty to his God and his love for this fascinating woman.

Following a glorious desert romance, Boris forgets everything but his love for Domiri and the pair are married by Father Roubier and go off on an idyllic honeymoon in the heart of the desert.

The story leads up to a thrilling climax and an unexpected denouement which it would be unfair to reveal here.

DISTINGUISHED CAST

A distinguished and uniformly excellent cast enacts the leading supporting roles. The ever dependable Basil Rathbone is splendid as the mystic Italian nobleman, Count Anteon; Hollywood's grand old man, C. Aubrey Smith, is superb as Father Roubier; the lovely dancer, Tilly Losch is magnificent in her screen debut as the fiery Arabian dancing girl, Irena; and Joseph Schildkraut proves the perfect choice for Bato, the engaging porter-philosopher and guide. The film also introduces Alan Marshal, the handsome young stage actor, whose work as Captain de Trevignac has set rival Hollywood studios clamouring for him, and others who give outstanding performances are John Carradine as the sand diver, Lucille Watson as the Mother Superior and Henry Brandon as Hadi.

The soft hues of the desert lend themselves perfectly to the use of colour and the scenes in the Algerian bazaars and the cave of the Ouled-Nail dancing girls are unforgettable feasts for the eyes. Sturges Carne, Lyle Wheeler and Edward Boyle deserve special mention for their glorious settings and the costumes designed by Ernst Dryden are breath-takingly lovely. The film is released through United Artists.

To say that "The Garden of Allah" is the crowning achievement of David O. Selznick is no small praise for the producer of "David Copperfield", "Viva Villa", "Dinner at Eight" and "Little Lord Fauntleroy".

You'll be seeing this glorious, eye-filling entertainment again and again.

"THE GARDEN MURDER CASE" At The Excelsior

The inimitable Philo Vance, with his suave polish masking that coldly analytical brain, holds sway in "The Garden Murder Case" at the Excelsior Theatre. Edmund Lowe is the famous scientific sleuth, and a more delightful interpretation never has been given to the famous role. Lowe is superb, his nonchalance as he moves through a series of perilous situations as at once thrilling and humorous, and his masterly handling of those he suspects of crime is supreme entertainment.

With him is Virginia Bruce, but a new, lovelier and livelier Virginia Bruce than the screen has seen before. She has sacrificed her long hair and wears an attractive new bob, and with it has come a new personality that is even more intriguing. She is a perfect foil for Lowe's whimsical love-making.

The story is the latest of S. S. Van Dine's exploits of Philo Vance. It deals with three mysterious murders, each of which appears to be accidental. But Vance refuses to believe them accidental, and through his application of scientific criminology during which he subjects himself to active peril, he is finally able to trap the culprit, but with surprising results.

The supporting cast for the two principals is unusually well-chosen. Gene Lockhart is especially fine as an egotistical millionaire who meets a tragic death. H. B. Warner as a coldly impersonal military man whose wife is another victim of the mysterious figure, as is Frieda Inescort, lately of the New York stage, as the wife.

Nat Pendleton has been seen before as Sergeant Heath, but never more delightfully. Benita Hume gives an excellent portrayal in a difficult role as a nurse whose patients are menaced by the weird tragedies. Henry B. Walthall, as usual, is fine.

Douglas Walton, Kent Smith, Grant Mitchell, Jessie Ralph, Charles Trowbridge and Etienne Girardot are others who deserve unusual mention.

"The Garden Murder Case" is the newest production of Lucien Hubbard and Ned Marin of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, and was capably directed by Edwin L. Marin from a screen play by Bertram Millhauser.

"The Magnificent Brute" at the Capitol

An exciting scene from "Cain and Mabel", the Cosmopolitan picture released by Warner Bros. now at the Pathe Theatre—in which Clarke Gable as penalty for an off-guard moment takes the count—while Marion Davis comes hot-footing to spring her big surprise.

"CAIN AND MABEL" MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE At Pathe

Litling music, magnificent spectacles, rollicking comedy, romance and thrills combine to form the rare entertainment found in the Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros. "Cain and Mabel", which held audiences in a spell of enchantment at its brilliant premiere at the Pathe Cinema to-night.

These ingredients, added to the fine performances of its two famous stars, Marion Davies and Clark Gable, and that of an exceptionally talented supporting cast, make this picture one of the outstanding screen productions of the year.

One of the big features of the musical comedy is a sensational number called "Thousand Love Songs", which for sheer beauty, novelty and magnitude of its scope, is truly remarkable. Staged by the famous dance director, Bobby Connolly, it is really six numbers combined in one, there being that many different settings and backgrounds.

Miss Davies, with Charles Teske, the famous ballet dancer, as her partner, heads one hundred and sixty chorus girls in a series of intricate and spectacular dance routines.

"I'll Sing You a Thousand Love Songs" is the theme song of the number, sung by David Carlyle, and with its music forming a litling background running throughout the piece. There are also five

KATHERINE HEPBURN AND MARSHALL BRILLIANTLY TEAMED IN NEW DRAMA "A WOMAN REBELS"

At The Regal

A surging revelation of one woman's defiance of oppressive social restrictions is brought to the screen in "A Woman Rebels" starring Katherine Hepburn and Herbert Marshall, from to-day at the Regal Theatre. Once more the genius of Katherine Hepburn flashes across the screen in a story so intensely human and so close to the heart of womanhood that it cannot but further establish the brilliant young actress in her niche as one of the outstanding dramatic artists. Her role is a difficult one but Miss Hepburn's intelligent interpretation of a life full of emotional conflicts results in a performance that equals in every respect, the many other achievements of this consistent Academy Award contender.

The absorbing story, based on a novel by Nella Syrett, deals with a girl filled with a burning ambition to attain personal freedom. Her valiant struggle and sacrifices provide vivid drama. Herbert Marshall as the quiet sympathetic diplomat to whom Miss Hepburn turns at the various crises in her life and with whom she finds happiness in the end, gives another of his characteristically fine performances. He proves a happy choice for the lead, opposite the tempestuous Hepburn. Outstanding portrayals are contributed by every member of the cast. Donald Crisp, as the stern, domineering father of Miss Hepburn; Elizabeth Allan, as the diffident, younger sister who meets a tragic end; David Manners, as Miss Allan's young naval officer husband, who dies at sea, and Doris Dudley as Miss Hepburn's daughter, deserve special praise for their finely drawn performances. Rural English an Italian settings of the era are reproduced in authentic manner, as are the costumes designed by Walter Plumkett. The photography of Robert de Grasse is particularly note-worthy as is the musical scoring of Roy Well. Pandro S. Berman produced for R.K.O. Radio. The direction of Mark Sandrich has been penetrating and understanding. All together "A Woman Rebels" is a film that should not be missed.

"THE MAGNIFICENT BRUTE" At The Capitol

"The Magnificent Brute" starring Victor McLaglen, Academy Award winner, opening to-day at the Capitol will introduce the age of steel to the cinema at the Capitol Theatre. This is the first time that the awe-inspiring background of a steel mill has been

The New Year has begun very well, indeed, for Bombay Talkies. In over 100 centres throughout India one or other of their pictures was being shown on the first January. And the telegram from their Northern India distributors about the amazing success of "Achhut Kanya" at Allahabad was the best New Year's greeting that studio executives received.

The first release of the Bombay Talkies during 1937 will be their new picture "Izzat" just complete at their Malad Studios. The date of its release at the Royal Opera House was originally fixed on Christmas day, then it was shifted to 9th January and now it is finally scheduled to be screened from the 16th. These postponements are due to the continuous popularity of "Janma Bhoomi" which is now in the ninth week of its run at the Opera House. It is hoped that by the 16th when it will conclude its 10th week run all those who could not see "Janma Bhoomi" during the recent riot period in Bombay will have seen it and it will be able to make room for "Izzat".

"Janma Bhoomi" has proved itself a worthy successor of "Achhut Kanya" in Bombay and in many other places. At Poona the box-office record of "Janma Bhoomi" ran neck to neck with the box-office results of "Achhut Kanya". At Sholapur "Janma Bhoomi" has proved a greater success than any other picture, even including "Achhut Kanya". At Allahabad "Janma Bhoomi" has just started and the cinema proprietor has telegraphed "Picture has taken public by storm. Unprecedented rush."

"Achhut Kanya" which had its release earlier is already being shown in various important centres. At Ahmedabad it is now in its 11th week and still its popularity is unabated. At Madras it has just completed a seven weeks run which is unprecedented for any Hindustani picture. At Karachi it is in sixth week. At Delhi it is completing its eighth week. At Lahore it is doing bumper business in its fourth week and it is expected to run there for many more weeks. Similar reports are coming about the picture from all over India.

With the end of the premiere run at Bombay of "Janma Bhoomi" the picture will be more widely released throughout the country and may be at many stations it will win greater popularity than even "Achhut Kanya". It is a matter of congratulations for Bombay Talkies that with each new picture they are winning for their productions greater esteem and popularity.

If previous pictures of the Bombay Talkies especially "Achhut Kanya" had won for the company high praise from various sources, "Janma Bhoomi" from the very beginning is eliciting still higher praise. There has appeared in the press from Mr. F. L. Brayne of the Punjab Government a highly appreciative letter about "Janma Bhoomi". He concludes it by saying, "India needs more such pictures". The President of the Bombay Congress, Mr. K. F. Nariman, saw the picture recently at Bombay along with 400 Congressmen and social workers and bestowed on the picture the highest possible praise. His Excellency the Governor of Bombay and Lady Brabourne, along with the Ministers and members of the Government, many foreign consuls, judges of High Court, prominent local citizens and representatives of the press saw the picture on the 5th instant and unanimously proclaimed it to be one of the great merit and value.

Now all are looking forward to "Izzat" which, from all reports, must eclipse all previous Bombay Talkies' productions, including "Achhut Kanya" and "Janma Bhoomi". The story is by Miss Nandi and film adaptation by the well-known scenario-writer, Mr. Niranjan Paul.

"Izzat" connotes honour. It is a theme which is great and rich in dramatic possibilities. And the Bombay Talkies have spared no effort to ensure that its appeal justifies the name. There are in "Izzat" highly dramatic moments, pathetic as well as inspiring. To capture the spirit of these moments there are appropriate songs by Devika Rani and Ashok Kumar. The inimitable voice of Chandrabha will also be heard. And then there are some excellent dance numbers by Sunita Devi and Mumtaz Ali.

The dance sequences of "Izzat" have a surprise in store for the film fans. For the first time they will see Devika Rani in a dance scene. The story has so developed that Ashok Kumar, too, will be seen dancing.

Following the completion of "Izzat" the Bombay Talkies studio have already launched their next production, entitled "Toofan". We will be able to give some more particulars of this picture in our next issue.

used for a feature screen production. Fantastic flame, effects, the glow of molten metal, the bursting showers of steel sparks and grotesque shadows are shown in marvellous photographic treatment, which heightens the drama enacted by the interesting characters in the tale of primitive men and prime beauties. Victor McLaglen in the title role is cast as a modern swashbuckler with a roving eye. As to that, Anthony had his Cleopatra; Samson his Delilah. Henry VIII had his five wives. (Further the historian sayeth not.) Well, "The Magnificent Brute" is a fool for blondes. This is right royal entertainment. Let us make the most of it. The central figure is a tremendous giant of a fellow who towers above most men and is torn between two blondes. Binnie Barnes gives a splendid characterisation as a girl who delights in causing men to fight over her. She is attractive enough to make the fighting seem worth-while. William Hall, a tall, well-built new-comer to the screen, gives glorious battle to Victor McLaglen in a titanic conflict that is a classic. Interesting as the struggle is between the men, there is a striving for conquest between Binnie Barnes and Jean Dixon, which reveals new highlights in feminine nature. Their wiles to win the affection of Victor McLaglen, "The Magnificent Brute" is a lesson in "how to get your man". Henry Armetta, the comedian who is welcomed by audience laughter before he speaks a line, has a prominent role. "The Magnificent Brute" is based on "Owen Francis' story. 'Big', which ran in Liberty Magazine. John G. Blystone directed the picture from the screen play written by Owen Francis and Lewis R. Foster. This happy combination of star, story, cast and director makes an unusual offering well-worth seeing.

Unity Is Aim Of Scout Movement

Baden-Powell Pays Tribute To Organisation In India And Says "Keep Up Good Name"

Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, gave the following message to the Indian Scouts:—
"The first law is of first importance. And that is, the Scout's honour is to be trusted. A Scout will not tell a lie even if it were to cover some fault of his own. His word is to be trusted and he should speak the truth at all costs and be honest and straight in his dealings."

"KEEP UP GOOD NAME"

"Indian Scouts have carried out the Scout ideals by being truthful and trustworthy, strong and cheerful and ready to help other people. I say to them to keep up that good name among other nations of the world and to carry out faithfully the Scout laws," said Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout in an interview to the "Bombay Chronicle" at the Government House, on Friday morning.

Chief Scout And Chief Guide In City

Lord Baden Powell said:—
"I am very glad to be back in India. Where I spent some of the happiest years of my life. Since I was here last the boy scouts have increased enormously in numbers and efficiency. There are 280,000 boy scouts and over 40,000 girl guides.
"I am looking forward eagerly to meet those Scout masters responsible for this advance and I also look forward to see the Scouts themselves at the Jamboree, where representatives would be coming from all parts of India.
"It will enable me to judge fairly how far scouting has succeeded in this country. It is gratifying to know that not only in India has scouting been going ahead but also many Indians in other parts of the Empire are taking keen interest. Last year I was in Kenya, Tanganyika and in Zanzibar and in all these troops of Indian boy scouts, I found a very good association, and also in Natal. I am very glad that I was able to get them affiliated by the Scouts Headquarters in South Africa. Indian scouts are to-day spread in all the distant parts of the Empire.
"Won Nations' Admiration
"The contingent of Indian scouts who went to Australia Jamboree under the leadership of Mr. Hogg, won admiration of the scouts of the other nations who assembled there, for their courtesy, smartness and good behaviour."

"Then the public service which the scouts of the Punjab have rendered during the past three or four years at the Melas and after the earthquake at Quetta, have been widely admired by the brother scouts throughout the Empire.
"Indian scouts have, therefore, carried out the scout ideals by being truthful and trustworthy, strong and cheerful and ready to help other people. I say to them to keep up that good name among other nations of the world and to faithfully carry out the scout laws. The first law is of first importance and that is, the Scout's honour is to be trusted. A scout will not tell a lie even if it were to cover some fault of his own. His word is to be trusted and he should speak the truth at all costs and be honest and straight in his dealings."

Proceeding, Lord Baden-Powell emphasised that the scout movement was essentially a non-political, non-military and non-denominational organisation. It was meant to develop the physical strength by taking part in games such as folk-dances, really a very helpful exercise to revive the traditional songs of the land, and to revive and keep up the old traditions. The real aim of the scout movement was to bring about unity, and this movement would help to make India a united nation.
For example, in South Africa, the Indian scouts, the Boer scouts and the British scouts were all playing together, young people were brought into contact with each other and they would forget racial animosity. A spirit of comradeship and brotherhood prevailed. Thus it helped to bring about unity.

The same was the case in Canada. There were various European races settled there. The boy scouts movement there considerably helped to bring about real unity and the scouts felt as Canadians and not as Frenchmen of British.

Lord and Lady Baden-Powell and party will leave Bombay tomorrow night for Delhi to attend the All-India Scout Jamboree.

SAROJINI NAIDU IN BOMBAY

Confident Of Congress Success In Elections: Future Programme Undecided

BOMBAY, Friday.
Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, member of the Congress Working Committee, arrived here this morning by the Punjab Mail after completing her election propaganda tour in the Punjab and the United Provinces. She was received at the station by Messrs K. F. Nariman, S. A. Brelvi, Nagindas Master, S. K. Patil and officials of the local Congress Committee.

Much Pulled Down

Mrs. Naidu was looking very much pulled down. She had to make a journey of 200 miles a day on an average in a motor car and had to address a number of meetings every day.
She was very much impressed with the enthusiasm evinced by the peasants, both in the Punjab and the United Provinces. She felt confident that the Congress would come out successful in both the Provinces.

Her first enquiry on getting out of the train was about the condition of Mr. Vaikunth Desai, who is dangerously ill and is being treated in the K. E. M. Hospital. Mr. Desai has been unconscious for the last three days and the doctors have given up hope.
Mrs. Naidu motored to the Hospital straight from the station and saw Mr. Desai.

Future Programme Undecided

She has received telegrams from Messrs. T. Prakasam and S. Satya-nand, requesting her to tour Andhra and Tamil Nadu respectively. She has also been requested to pay a short visit to Maharashtra.
Her future programme will be decided after consultations with Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, President of the Congress Central Parliamentary Board.

JAWAHAR TO TOUR MAHARASHTRA

Will Reach Poona On Feb. 8.

(From Our Correspondent)
POONA, January 23.
Telegraphic information has been received here that Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru, the Congress President, will reach Poona on the 8th of February to make a hurricane tour of important centres of Maharashtra and push the Congress election campaign in this Province. Details of Panditji's tour programme have yet to be fixed.

SARAT BOSE'S MESSAGE.
"I am confident that Congress will come out successful in the elections in Maharashtra," says Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, the Bengal Congressman in a telegraphic message to the Maharashtra Congress Parliamentary Board.

REVOLVER FIND.
A six-chambered revolver bearing No. 777 was found yesterday in the fuel depot of one Syed Gulab Syed Kassum situated at No. 1170 Bhawani Peth. The police have taken possession of the fire-arm, and are conducting inquiries in the matter.

DEMOCRATS BUSY.
Election fever in Maharashtra in general and in Poona in particular is raging pretty high. Although Congress is assured of its wholesale success in the mofussil, the fight in the City and the district of Poona is very keen as the Democrats are utilizing all their propagandist energies in this very area and final result in this area alone will be the crucial test.

SUBASH LOSES 23 LBS.

Suffers From Septic Tonsils And Congested Liver

JUBBULPORE, Jan. 28.
(By Mail).
In the course of a letter written from Calcutta to Dr. George De Silva, member of the All-India Congress Committee, Mr. Subash Chandra Bose says:
"Since coming here, there has been a slight improvement in my intestinal condition—probably due to the fact that the water here is much better than the hill water. Otherwise my health continues much the same.
There has been a slight drop in my weight since coming here—being 151 lbs. now—while my weight at Poona was 174 lbs.
I am having treatment for septic tonsils—probably it will not be necessary to have them removed surgically.
X-ray examination has revealed slight enlargement and congestion of the liver for which I am being treated.
I am having a slight rise of temperature occasionally in the evening. The radiologist is however, of opinion that the lungs are clear"—A. P.

SIND TO RETAIN HER COTTON

Governor Opens Textile
Mills At Karachi

KARACHI, Jan. 28.

An important advance in the process of industrialisation through which the province of Sind is at present passing was taken this afternoon when H. E. the Governor of Sind inaugurated the Sind Textile Mills, the first enterprise of its kind to produce yarn from Sind cotton.

The mills have started with a capital of one and half lakhs and a capacity of 4,000 spindles. They are manned at present by 11 imported labour.

Declaring the mills open in the presence of a large gathering, the Governor declared that previously it used to be a depressing sight to see all Sind's cotton streaming out of her harbour, but now a portion of it was going to be converted into yarn.

His Excellency expressed satisfaction at the prospects of the avenues for employment afforded by the new project, and hoped that educated young men of the province would also be employed on the administrative side of the enterprise.—A. P.

MAHASABHA WANTS NO HINDU RAJ

Bhai Parmanand On
Jinnah-Jawahar
Controversy

NEW DELHI, (By Mail.)

Bhai Parmanand, M.L.A., Senior
Vice-President of the Hindu
Mahasabha, has issued the following statement:—

"Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru in his statement coupled my name with that of Mr. Jinnah. Mr.
Jinnah, as he says, in pure self-defence issued a long statement in the course of which he has been pleased to make a passing reference to me by which he has drawn the attention of Mr. Jawaharlal to the fact of there being a vital difference between him and myself pointing out, I stand for Hindu Raj, and that he stands for fully democratic and responsible Government for the people of India.

"I wish to tell Mr. Jinnah straightaway that he is absolutely mistaken in holding such a view about myself. Mr. Jinnah cannot produce a trace of evidence from my speeches and writings to show that I have ever been guilty of advocating a Hindu Raj for this country, we (representing Hindu Sabha view) have never claimed special concession or special privilege for the Hindu population of this country.

PEOPLE'S RAJ

I would tell Mr. Jinnah that I stand for self-government which in the famous words of Abraham Lincoln means "The Government of the people by the people and for the people". In the word "people" I include Muslims of India as well as other minorities.
"I have, however, never lost sight of the fact, that all our efforts should be directed to develop a free consciousness of community of our political and economic interests, without which we can never achieve "a fully democratic and responsible Government for the people of India".—

WILL SHOLAPUR MILLS CLOSE FOR POLLING?

Labour Candidate
Appeals To Govt.

(From A Correspondent.)

Mr. R. A. Khedgikar, candidate for non-Union Textile Labour seat in Sholapur has applied to different mills for the mills being kept closed on the day of elections, i.e., February 15th, 1937. There does not seem much hope of his request being granted from these quarters and consequently he has applied to the "Reforms Department" of the Bombay Secretariat.
The polling of votes
of the Mahomedan Special Constituency also is to be on the same date and it is essential that a holiday should be declared on that day to facilitate exercising of the franchise.

TRADE AND FINANCE

Day To Day Loans Placed At 1 1/4 P. C. DECLINE IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

Hectic Trading In Steel Shares

(From Our Special Correspondent) Bombay, January 29.

MONEY
There was no change in the monetary situation during the period under review, day-to-day loans being available at 1-1/4 per cent. This week's three months Treasury Bills fetched 1.0156 per cent, giving a return of .0499 per cent, less than last week. Total tenders amounted to Rs. 2,05,50,000, of which Rs. 1 crore were accepted. Maturities, on the other hand, amounted to Rs. 2 crores; and in addition the market received about Rs. 2.66 crores being the proceeds of £2 million sterling sold to Government by tender. Fixed deposit rates were:—1 1/2 per cent, for three months and 1 3/4 per cent for six months.

RESERVE BANK
The Reserve Bank of India statement for the week ended January 22, 1937, shows an increase of Rs. 12.32 lakhs in the total notes issued against an almost corresponding increase of Rs. 12.35 lakhs in Rupee coin. Sterling Securities were unchanged at Rs. 72.31 crores, where Rupee securities showed a fractional decline of Rs. .03 lakhs. The ratio of total of Gold coin and Bullion and Sterling Securities to Liabilities decreased by .034 per cent to 57.04 per cent. Government Deposits, which include £26,500 held in London on account of the High Commissioner, converted at 1s. 6d. to the rupee, were up by Rs. 178.91 lakhs to Rs. 10.32 crores and Banks Deposits by Rs. 129.52 lakhs to Rs. 16.41 crores. Balances held abroad rose by Rs. 218.29 lakhs to Rs. 19.05 crores. Investments and other Assets recorded an increase of Rs. 54.59 lakhs and Rs. 3.53 lakhs respectively. The bank rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

IMPERIAL BANK
The Imperial Bank of India statement as on January 22, 1937, shows an increase of Rs. 194.90 lakhs in the total cash balance of the bank, which now stands at Rs. 9.56 crores. Total value of securities have declined by Rs. 153.22 lakhs to Rs. 53.36 crores. Loans were down by Rs. 132.47 lakhs. Cash credits and Bills Discounted were up by Rs. 65.99 lakhs and Rs. 9.26 lakhs respectively. Deposits on all accounts show a recession of Rs. 17.30 lakhs during the week. It is understood that the Imperial Bank of India advance rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

EXCHANGE
Sterling exchange was steady during the period under report. Sellers of ready T. T. quoted 1s. 6-1/8d and buyers 1s. 6-5/32d, occasional business being transacted at the middle rate. Showing of merchandise export bills both locally and in outside markets was small. Government were able to get £70,000 sterling on tap at 1s. 6-5/32d during the week ended January 22, 1937. This week's sterling tenders to Government at 1s. 6-1/8d, were comparatively large amounting to £106,000,000, of which approximately 2 per cent. were allotted.

The predominant feature of foreign exchanges in London was the weakness of the forward French francs. Although the spot rate was maintained by the intervention of the control around francs 105-15 the discount on three months forward francs widened to as high as frs. 3.00, an increase of frs. 1.10 over last week. This was mainly due to large offering of forward francs on a reported hitch in the negotiations for credit of £50 million, which the French Government was reported to be negotiating in London. The sterling dollar cross rate after opening at 4.90-15/16 dollar advanced to 4.90-15/16 dollar. Reports about a monetary conference in Washington to discuss the tripartite currency agreement of September last were partly responsible for the appreciation of sterling. Towards the close, however, continental buying of U. S. dollars brought down the rate to 4.89 13/6 dollars. The belga and the guilder declined from 29.12-3/4 and 8.95-3/4 to 29.06-3/4 and 8.94 1/2 respectively. The Italian lira after fluctuating between 93.21 and 93.09. Among the Eastern Exchanges, Shanghai dollar was throughout the week pegged at 1s. 2-19/32d, but closed steady at 1s. 2-1/8d, and the yen remained practically unchanged at 1s. 2d.

GOLD
With the approach of the settlement the majority of business in gold was confined to carry-over transactions. Some fresh business for export was, however, practicable, and the transactions were mostly for deliveries during the second half of March. The quotation for ready opened at Rs. 35-1-9 and after declining to Rs. 35-1 in sympathy with the appreciation of sterling in terms of the dollar, firmed up to Rs. 35-2-6 towards the close. March settlement gold continues to be quoted at 3 ples under spot and February gold. Stocks on hand are estimated at about 25,000 tolas, while the offtake averages about 3,000 tolas a day. Daily arrivals are a shade better at 15,000 tolas. Last week's shipment per s.s. "Rajputana" was worth Rs. 41.01 lakhs. In London the price of gold opened at 141s. 9-1/2d. and after declining to 141s. 8d. on Tuesday last, moved up and closed at 141s. 11d. The highest and lowest rates in the local market were Rs. 35-2-6 and Rs. 35-1 for ready and January 29, settlement and Rs. 35-2-3 and Rs. 35-0-9 for March 5, settlement. Total imports during the week amounted to Rs. 4,00,113 in bar and coin. The price of spot sovereigns advanced from Rs. 22-5-6 to 22-6-6. There was good demand for the coins.

SILVER
Silver was steady during the week, and fluctuations in the price were narrow. The quotation for spot opened at Rs. 50-11 but declined to Rs. 50-7 in sympathy with the London market where the rate for spot dropped from 20 1/4d. to 20 3/8d. Towards the close, however, on some speculative buying and bear covering the rate advanced to Rs. 50-14 but closed at Rs. 50. The backwardation on March settlement, was maintained around 4 annas, but in London the premium on spot decreased from 1/8d. to 1/16d. The week's total imports of bar silver amounted to about 1,369 bars (1176 bars from London, 47 bars from Hong-Kong and 146 bars from New York). Coins valued at Rs. 7,909 were also imported. The offtake was maintained and averaged about 141 bars a day. Stocks on hand aggregate about 26,000 bars. Yesterday's arrival per s.s. "Malaja" is valued at £587,300 (5739 bars), and silver worth £494,100 is "en route" to Bombay. The highest and lowest rates in London were 20-3/8d. and 20-1/4d. for spot and 20-7/16d. and 20-1/4d. for two months' forward. Those in the local market were Rs. 50-14 and Rs. 50-7 for ready and January 31, settlement and Rs. 50-10 and Rs. 50-3 for March 8, settlement.

SHARES
The past week witnessed another period of hectic trading on the stock market, more particularly in the iron and steel section. There were violent fluctuations, and prices on balance were higher by several points over last week's closing. Tata Iron Ordys., however, found comparatively more sellers, which kept the price of this scrip somewhat depressed as compared with Tata Deids., which recorded a substantial advance. Tata Deids. opening at Rs. 1,135 touched Rs. 1,260, but closed at Rs. 1,230 on sundry profit-taking. Tata Ordys. opened at Rs. 289 and after advancing a little over Rs. 300, declined to Rs. 288-8. The disproportion is caused by the expectation of higher profits by the company, resulting in a larger share to holders of Defereds. Cotton mill shares were inclined to be easier at the opening, but recovered in sympathy with the general trend of the market, and also on firmer raw cotton. Bombay Dyeings opened at Rs. 883-12 and after declining to Rs. 872-8 shot up to Rs. 915, but closed at Rs. 902-8. Centurys after losing about 5 points early in the week, gained about 25 points, but closed a shade lower at Rs. 218-12. Central India after dropping from Rs. 282-8 to Rs. 277-8 spurred to Rs. 295-10, but closed at Rs. 288-2. Other scrips in this section after a slight recovery in mid-week, receded to the opening levels. Hydro-electric shares were easy in sympathy with the gilt-edged and there were more sellers. Tata Powers, however, at the close were somewhat better on bull support. The Tata Power Company have notified about the further sale of 1,02 1/2 ordinary forfeited shares, the proceeds of which will be util-

FURTHER WEAKNESS IN GILT-EDGED SECURITIES

Good Support In Kaffirs
(SPECIAL CABLE)
LONDON, Jan. 29.

On the Stock Exchange some good support specialised Kaffirs otherwise the account closed barely steady with further weakness in giltedged securities and some week-end selling causing preponderance of small losses. Oils exceptionally met some inquiry.

In commodities wheat was firmer on some outside inquiry. Rubber was easier following Goodrich strike news and then ruled steady. Cocoa was easier in sympathy with New York.

Wall Street was irregular and then heavy.

Linseed And Wheat

Bombay, Jan. 29.
Heavy Argentine wheat shipments and favourable U.S. winter crops are inducing selling in wheat but present prices seem reasonable and we think it advisable to commence buying at present prices on all declines. The statistical position is strong and any revival in demand is likely to result in improvement in prices. The local market was fairly steady to-day with scattered buying.

Used in financing plant improvements and extensions and in reducing the current and debenture indebtedness of the company. The quotation for Tata Powers were maintained around Rs. 1,560. Andhra Valleys lost about 15 points. Bombay Burmas kept quite steady and the price ranged between Rs. 627-8 and Rs. 627-5, but the turnover was comparatively small. Belapur opened at Rs. 180-10 and after declining to Rs. 182-2 moved up to Rs. 191-4, but closed off on selling pressure to Rs. 183-12. Cement shares were easy with very little doing. Business in this section is very narrow, and until the Associated Cement Company's shares are issued on the market, no activity is likely. Bundis closed at Rs. 39-4; Indian Cements at Rs. 518-12 and Shahabads at Rs. 510. Bank shares were quietly steady. Centrals closed at Rs. 35-8; Reserves at Rs. 135-8 and Bank of India at Rs. 140-8. Scindia Steams changed hands at Rs. 22-9 and the shares of the New India Assurance Co. at Rs. 44-4.

GILT-EDGED

The gilt-edged market ruled weak during the period under report following advances from London where both British and Indian sterling stocks declined, the fall being precipitated in the interminable and long-dated loans. 31 per cent India Sterling Stocks declined from 297 1/4 to as low as 294. In the local market the price of 31 per cent Rupee Paper dropped to Rs. 96-10, a fall of nearly 2 points over last closing, at which level there was a certain amount of bear covering causing the rate to move up to Rs. 97-2. At the close the rate declined in sympathy with London advances to Rs. 96-3. There were sellers in all scrips at declining rates, but buyers were holding off. 4 per cent 1980-70 loan was quoted as low as Rs. 113-10 while 5 per cent 1945-55 (tax free) loan were done up to Rs. 119-14. 2-3/4 per cent 1948-52 new loan closed at Rs. 99-13; 3 per cent 1941 loan at Rs. 104; 3 per cent 1951-54 loan at Rs. 101-15 and 4 per cent 1947-50 loan at Rs. 106 3/4. 1943 bonds were on offer at Rs. 110-8 and 4 1/2 per cent 1955-60 loan at Rs. 119. 5 per cent 1939-44 loan declined from Rs. 103-1 to Rs. 107-14 and 5 per cent 1940-43 loan from Rs. 111-1 to Rs. 110-14. 6 1/2 per cent 1938-40 loan was quoted at Rs. 106-6.

Heavy Realising In Cotton Well Absorbed Considerable Price-Fixing By Mills

NEW CROP MONTHS QUIET

On Thursday there was no new feature in the New York cotton market. Exports are increasing and heavy realising at the advance was well absorbed. The textile industry all over the world shows steady improvement and cotton consumption this year is believed to show a substantial increase.

Bombay, Jan. 29. The New York cotton futures market opened firm and was active. Prices advanced on higher Liverpool cables and continued flood damage which induced active trade, foreign and commission houses buying. The sentiment was constructive.

HEAVY REALISING
The advance attracted heavy realising and some hedge selling but offers were small. Prices later on reacted partially on realising. Trade buying of near months appeared and the finish was steady.

LOAN SALES.
The market brightened on the little possibility of large sales of loan cotton after the flood-damage. Traders were awaiting developments in connection with the flood situation, the position with regard to which was less alarming in Memphis but insurance companies are moving cotton very fast to a high ground.

PRICE MOVEMENT
At the opening March was quoted 7 points up at 12.75 and soon advanced to 12.85 which was the highest level. Later on prices declined 10 points from the highest level and March was quoted 12.75 which was the lowest level for the day, but trade buying again hardened prices and the market closed 8 points up to unchanged. Spot cotton prices gained 8 points at 13.30c. per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.
The New Orleans Cotton futures market was fairly steady and closed at a rise of 7 to 3 points, spot cotton prices gained 3 points at 13.35c. per lb.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.
The Liverpool cotton futures market opened at a rise of 7 to 9 points. There was general speculative buying on fears of flood damage. There was also good trade calling and offerings were light apart from profit-taking. Later on straddle selling and profit-taking met speculative buying, trade calling and local short covering. The market closed at a rise of 11 to 8 points. Middling American Spot cotton prices gained 15 points at 7.38d. per lb.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.
Egyptian cotton futures market was also very steady and Sakels futures advanced 3 to 6 points and Ashmouni futures were 12 to 7 points higher.

ALEXANDRIA MARKET.
The Alexandria cotton futures market also advanced on improved buying and prices closed 13 to 34 points up. Sakel March 18.42, Ashmouni April 14.33 and Giza March 16.24.

Mr. G. W. Fothergill writes:
"The Government's announcement over the holidays of its plan to release 'loan' cotton was generally construed as placing an upper limit to the market, resulting in liquidation by long who could see little prospect of any material advance and who were consequently disposed to sell out and await developments, especially as it was believed that a maximum price would be invited more hedge-selling against foreign growths. Prices developed a reactionary tendency also under the influence of unfavourable labour developments in America and nervousness about the foreign political situation."

WHITE FIRM.
The trade, generally, is awaiting an official announcement as regards grade and location of the cotton to be allowed on 'loan' cotton and there is much discussion of the probable influence on the market of the differences when sales get under way. The decline carried values below the levels named was minima by the Government for 'loan' sales and prices subsequently rallied under trade buying, especially of near months, subject to numerous reactions as a result of liquidation and hedge-selling on advances.

BARTER ARRANGEMENT
Rumours were current that efforts were being made to negotiate barter arrangements for the disposal of the lower grades of 'loan' cotton, but the C.C.C. denied any knowledge of such a plan. The trade thought, however, that something might occur through merchants.

SPOT MARKETS ARE INACTIVE.
White cotton is firm, with little offering, but lower grades are rather difficult to sell. New outside business is negligible and narrow price changes are expected unless important new developments move values.

MILL BUYING
Demand for textiles has improved, indicating renewed buying by the mills, which are already well sold ahead. Prospects for domestic consumption are bright but the export outlook is unfavourable, shipments being now 600,000 bales less than at this stage of last season."

PRIVATE CABLES.
N.Y. March Highest 12.85+13 (10-57 a.m.)
N.Y. March Lowest 12.75+13 (2-54 p.m.)

Messrs. Drennan and Co. have received the following telegram from their foreign friends:—
"Liverpool—Strong market on fear goods damage causes further trade buying short covering except advance continue."

New York—(1) "Price fixing on realising."

BOMBAY COTTON

Bombay, Jan. 29. Following a further rise of 8 points in New York cotton futures the local market opened today at Rs. 227 1/2 for Broach A/M, delivery and improved to Rs. 228 on scattered buying. Today's parity is Rs. 80 without any reason and our cotton prices are the cheapest to-day in the world. We strongly advise purchases in Bombay against sales of new crop months in American cotton.

Liverpool market was due to open at a decline of 2 points but opening prices were 5 points down which induced scattered selling and Broach A/M declined to Rs. 226 1/2. The market closed at 5-30 p.m. as under:—

Towards Successful Life

Lack Of Occupational Outlets

III

Life can't be successful unless there are occupational opportunities, and there can be no occupational opportunities unless there is economic expansion.

To show how this lack of occupational opportunities has created an unparalleled situation among the educated class of people the "Chronicle" representative questioned a science graduate about the opportunity he has to apply his scientific knowledge. Here is his answer: "Since my boyhood I had a great liking for science. After my father's death, financially I was not in a position to continue my science studies. However, knowing my eagerness toward science some friends helped me to graduate with the understanding that the money borrowed must be returned when I secure well paid research work. But to my utter disappointment I am compelled to make a living as a clerk. I have the ability far above that needed for this clerk's job. I have special liking for science but this job of mine offers me no outlet and that is why I am terribly bored and irritated. It tremendous waste in man power and money.

The Real Need

In British India, however, according to the census of 1921, the cultivable waste is 155 million acres—land not yet under cultivation.

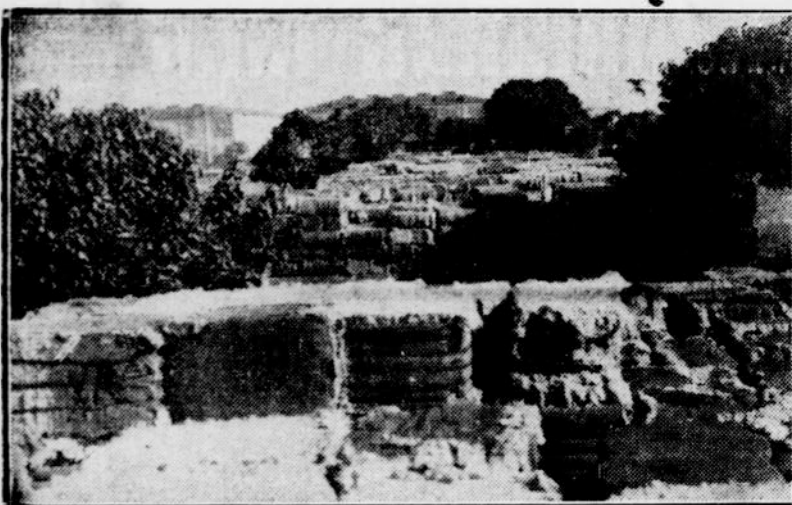

TOWARDS SUCCESSFUL LIFE

Read next article on "Education: Neither Cultural Nor Utilitarian" appear in the series on Wednesday, February 3, 1937.

Have you any constructive suggestions or criticism to make on this subject? If so, please write to us briefly.

It is estimated that the wastage in India's man-power is 66 per cent of the total. Then again wastage in India's capital amounts to two-thirds of capital resources. Men with technical training find no employment because of no demand owing to lack of technical development. So long as economic makes me unhappy to think that all my ambition is crushed."

Facilities For Research

One reason for this state of affairs is that there are no research departments connected with industries in our country to absorb science graduates. While in America the Bell Telephone Company, one of the many industrial concerns, has on its pay-roll over 4,500 research workers. This telephone company has the greatest private laboratory in the world. And its operating system is more highly standardized than any modern industry. Another American industrial concern prides itself that it has six hundred engineers and only seven salesmen. Since the coming of chemists, engineers, physicists, the old trial and error method is completely eliminated. Planning, control of materials, production, quality and so on down the line are subjected to strict analysis with a view to remove mic developments are not tackled, no amount of vocational education would help in finding occupation for vocationally trained men. Therefore, the real need in India is economic expansion.

Example Of Japan

It is reported that within one year, an order costing twenty-seven lakhs of rupees was placed abroad to purchase only one item, namely, electric switches and relays for power houses. At this point it is interesting to note how Japan keeps her money at home and helps her industry to expand. The Law No. 33 designed to encourage the establishment of all-Japanese manufacturing plants all licensed companies are exempt from payment of income and business profit taxes during the year of licensing and for five years thereafter. Why not in India?

When silk industry in Benares received a set back the producers of silk yarn went out of job. They

A family of four—Note the man's distressing look. Unemployment, poor being, miserable quarters and lack of adequate nourishing food contribute heavily to crime and disease, leading to tremendous waste of India's man-power.

No vacancy—Man at the door goes the trick. Over supply and no demand—willing to underbid rival—still nothing doing. Result: Hatred towards social order and in extreme cases suicide—Crying need for economic expansion.

then were compelled to turn to other things for which they neither had taste nor skill. Men trained for one particular job and not for another become a liability. This principle applies equally in the field of education. Particularly any system of education for one line of occupation is bound to result in course of time in over supply and consequently in wage reduction, resulting in low standard of living which acts as a detrimental factor in living a successful life. Regarding the price India has to pay for neglecting to develop her industry and to provide employment for her unemployed, Dr. J. M. Kumarappa, Professor of Social Economy, Sir Dorabji Tata Graduate School of Social Work writes: "Reduction in income means lessened food consumption in the family, poor living quarters and less clothing; these in turn affect health, and ill-health intensifies the problems of the individual and his family. Impairment of health and vitality fall heavily on mothers and children. Unemployment produces strain and friction within the family, and loss of mental balance even to the point of insanity and suicide. It develops lawless habits and fosters bitterness against the Government and the existing social institutions. In short unemployment brings about the most pathetic and dangerous forms of deterioration in the unemployed by affecting their social, physical and moral make-up, thus disorganising their whole personality." We would like the expression of opinion and constructive suggestions for the development of India's economic life and for improving the standard of living of our people. And thus help towards successful life by increasing their happiness and joy.

AMENDMENT TO LEGISLATIVE RULES

Asaf Ali's Plea For Postponement Of Its Consideration

NEW DELHI, Jan. 29. Mr. Asaf Ali, the Chief Whip of the Congress Party in the Assembly, in a letter to the President urged the postponement till after February 20th of consideration of the motion relating to an amendment of the Legislative Rules designed to regulate interpellations, which at Sir Cowasji Jehangir's instance, the Leader of the House to-day agreed to bring up on Monday February 1.

Mr. Asaf Ali emphasises that the proposed amendment is one in which elected members are bound to be vitally interested, and as the majority of them cannot attend the Assembly on the day on which it is proposed to be brought up, it will not receive the consideration which it deserves by reason of its far-reaching effect on the privilege of members.

"No motion of this nature can be made without your permission and under the circumstances the elected members particularly look up to you as the custodian of their privileges to extend to them whatever protection it is in your power to give them. There is, as far as I can see, no desperate hurry about this particular amendment as the continuance of the present rules has neither resulted so far, nor is likely to result in any conflict occasioned by the Government of India Act, which has been the Government's plea in respect of certain other measures."—A. No Interference With Elections

Assembly Accepts Dr. Khan Saheb's Resolution

NEW DELHI, Jan. 29. In the Legislative Assembly to-day Sir Yamin Khan put the following short-notice question:— "Are Government aware that a feeling of dissatisfaction exists among the members of this Assembly at the inadequate programme of work set down for the first three days' session. What steps do the Government propose to take in order to ensure that the House is adequately occupied from now onwards?"

Sir N. N. Sircar replied in the affirmative and said that Government shared that feeling. The business set down for each day under normal circumstances would have kept the house fully occupied for the days concerned. The Government would in future set down as much work that could be normally disposed of. However it was difficult to forecast under circumstances so abnormal.

Mr. Joshi:—Are Government aware that some members are quite pleased with the quick disposal of business?

Sir N. N. Sircar:—I note that is Mr. Joshi's feelings.

Assembly Programme For Next Week

The Assembly had a fifteen minutes sitting to-day. After Amin Khan's short-notice question the House took up Dr. Khan Sahib's resolution regarding the steps to be taken for prevention of interference by public servants in the forthcoming elections. This resolution and Sir Mohammad Yakub's amendment had been discussed at Simla, but the debate had not concluded.

The House to-day passed the amended resolution without discussion.

The resolution as amended runs: "This Assembly recommends to the Governor-General-in-Council to take immediate steps to secure that public servants did not interfere directly or indirectly in the ensuing elections but unruly conduct, demonstrations, which are likely to cause breach of peace, singing of provocative songs and slogans and pronouncing religious ban against any candidate or persuading voters to vote or not to vote in the name of religion, should be stopped by local authorities with strong measures."

The President ruled out Moulana Shaukat Ali's amendment alleging interference in elections at Moradabad by the Collector and Tehsildar and recommending immediate steps against them.

Sir Yamin Khan on a point of order asked, if it was right and proper for a member to make allegations against officials and put them on the agenda and poison the minds of everybody and then not be present in his seat to move his resolution.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir, wanted to

ONLY URGENT AMENDMENT.

After the leader of the House had announced the next week's business, which included the introduction of the Income-tax Amendment Bill, Sir James Grigg said that to avoid any possible misapprehension, he would make it clear that the Bill was not a comprehensive one but only on one particular point, in which the law had been found defective and which it was necessary to amend urgently. "It did not purport to deal with the whole of the recommendations in the recent Income-tax Report."

Sir James added: I think I had better say that in order to avoid any unnecessary alarm or despondency.

Replying to Sir Cowasji Jehangir Sir James Grigg said that the Amendment Act was found urgently necessary in consequence of certain legal decisions.

On the request of Sir Cowasji Jehangir the leader of the House, agreed to bring forward the motion for amendment of Legislative Rules, next Monday, instead of Wednesday.

The House adjourned till Monday.—A. P.
